

Two Crossing Guards Added

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Three new school buses will take care of most students' problems walking to school, but others will have to depend on four additional crossing guards to get them safely to school, Transportation Coordinator Kathleen Casey said Tuesday night.

The question is, where will $10,000 in salaries for new crossing guards come from? The Police Department, which hires the guards, says it does not have that money in its budget — and the School Committee said the same when Casey made her report.

The committeemen quickly whittled her recommendation down to two guards, at $5,000.

There are currently ten crossing guards stationed at hazardous locations. Casey, as part of her final busing report to the schoolmen this week, recommended that a guard be added at Shawsheen Road, and one at Shawsheen Road and Lowell Street to help West Elementary students; one at Lovejoy Road and Algonquin Avenue to assist Sanborn students; and one at School Street and St. Augustine's Drive for St. Augustine's students.

One crossing guard currently stationed in Ballardvale is available for reassignment now that Ballardvale students will be bused, the committee pointed out, bringing the number of needed guards down to three. It will be left to the police department to decide which of the areas Casey described should get that crossing guard.

And when Moraine and Cuba Street residents protested that a crossing guard on Shawsheen Road would not be enough to protect their children, Schoolman Richard Neal proposed having a bus with a light load in that area stop to pick up those children — eliminating the need for another crossing guard.

Superintendent Kenneth Seifert cautioned that that step could prompt more complaints from more parents in the future: "Where will you draw the line?" he asked. "If you are changing the gameplan, what will you do when all the seats are filled, and there are people who are still not satisfied?"

But the other committeemen agreed with Neal's proposal. All exceptions to the busing policy will be up for review next year, Michael Giammusso pointed out, and will not necessarily be continued far into the future.

That still left the committee with the financial question to solve — "We don't have the bucks" was how John Eaton put it.

Neal moved that Chairman Joseph Finn meet with police officials and acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi to discuss how they could persuade the Finance Committee to transfer $5,000 for crossing guards.

The committee voted unanimously in favor of that motion.

Progress Steady

Steady progress has been the keynote of Andover's multi-million dollar school building project during the past week, Project Manager William Mansell indicated Tuesday.

The three-part project is progressing at "about the same" pace as it was last week, he reported, with contractor Peabody Construction finishing the concrete work that was started last week.

Most progress is evident at the Doherty school, where masonry work is "going along quite rapidly," Mansell said. The bottom concrete has been completely poured at that school, which is being converted into a junior high school.

A large amount of concrete — from 160 to 180 cubic yards — was scheduled to be poured at Andover High School on Wednesday for vertical walls. Most of the walls would then be done, Mansell explained, in preparation for the first of the structural steel work. Some of that work will be done within the next two weeks, but there is still more ground work to be done first, he added.

A new auditorium and a classroom addition are being built at AHS.

And at West Junior High, which will get a new I.M.C. (library) and classroom space, remaining footings are being poured, along with a few more piers, before the bottom will be "all in" at that school, the project manager said. Backfilling will then begin.

The $13.72 million project to improve the town's secondary schools, approved by 1980 annual town meeting, is scheduled for completion by September 1983.

'Wizard'

The "Wizard of Oz" will be at the West Elementary School, Beacon Street, West Andover, on Oct. 23 at 7 p.m., Oct. 24 at 6 p.m. and Oct. 25 at 3 p.m. The play is produced by the Andover Community Theatre in conjunction with the Department of Community Services. Tickets are available at the door.

Haunted House

The Department of Community Services, in conjunction with the Andover Community Theater, is sponsoring a Haunted House on Thursday, Oct. 29, and Friday, Oct. 30, at the Shawsheen School from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Special Meeting Will Deal With Gypsy Moths

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Maybe you thought last year was a great one for gypsy moth caterpillars? Hang on to your hats, Andover, the worst is yet to come.

A recent count of the moths' egg masses now clinging to Andover trees shows that "next year will put this year to shame," the Public Works director told selectmen Monday night.

In hopes of avoiding that nightmare, 246 townspeople Tuesday morning petitioned the selectmen to call a special town meeting this fall, to see if the town is willing to fund aerial spraying to fight the caterpillars.

The petition drive was organized by Doreen Correnti of Tilton Lane, who said Tuesday she hopes the special meeting will be held between Thanksgiving and Christmas. The selectmen have 45 days to respond to the petition.

"The response to the petition (drive) was overwhelming," Correnti said, explaining that it took four people only a day and a half to collect nearly 250 signatures. "I was very surprised."

Correnti is not sure how much money town meeting will be asked to appropriate, or what chemical will be sprayed. That information will come from the Board of Health's subcommittee on the gypsy moth

Brown Glass Pickup Halted

Starting the week of Nov. 9, brown glass will no longer be picked up as recyclable because of unfavorable market conditions for this item.

Brown glass tonnage has always been far less than that of clear and green, so the change will not substantially affect the recycling picture. From now on, townspeople are advised to discard brown glass with the trash.

Some brands of beer in brown glass bottles may also be found in pure aluminum cans, which can be saved for the town's spring aluminum drive on May 1. Separated clear and green glass will still be picked up at curbside, along with paper every other week, following the 1981-82 recycling calendar.

Reusable containers for glass only are helpful to the recycling contractor, especially in wet weather when the bottoms often fall out of grocery bags as they are being picked up. Holes may be drilled in the bottoms of plastic wastebaskets to permit drainage on rainy days. Do not put lids on reusable containers.

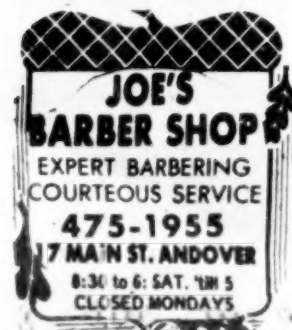

Wednesday, Nov. 11, is a holiday with no collections, delaying pickup to Thursday and Thursday's pickup to Friday.

The recycling contractor and Andover Recycling, Inc. thank the many loyal and conscientious supporters of recycling in Andover. Several changes and refinements have been made in the system recently to streamline the operation and make it work more satisfactorily for everyone.

To Replace Flags On Graves

Members of the American Legion, Post 8 and the Veterans of Foreign Wars of Andover will meet in the Veterans' Headquarters, 9 Essex St., Andover, on Sunday, Nov. 1, at 11 a.m., for the purpose of replacing more than 1100

American flags on graves of veterans in local cemeteries, prior to the observance of Veterans Day.

In the event of inclement weather, this activity will be postponed to the following Sunday, Nov. 8.

Land Group Schedules Meetings

The Land Management Committee announces its meeting schedule for November.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 4, the discussion will cover the Doyle Link, a 75-acre parcel of land surrounded by Lowell Street, Greenwood Road and High Plain Road then across High Plain Road the Doyle Reservation, a 15.7 acre parcel which parallels Juniper Road to Chandler Road. The second meeting will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 18, to discuss the Merrimack River frontage moving down Fish Brook wetlands to approximately the High Plain Road cross-over.

Overseers of these various parcels have been notified and the general public is invited to attend.

All meetings of the Land Management Committee are held in the conference Room, 11 Essex St., beginning at 7:30 p.m., unless otherwise noted. It is the desire of this committee to further inform interested persons about conservation land and to discuss present and future uses of these open areas.

Family Night Will Begin Season

Downtown merchants will kick off the holiday shopping season in earnest on Friday, Dec. 11, with their annual Family Night festivities.

The selectmen Monday night approved the Andover Center Merchants' request to block off Main Street from Elm Square to Punchard Avenue from 5:30 to 9 p.m. that evening.

The merchants plan to give the event a new twist this year: Christmas shoppers will find sales clerks in the downtown stores dressed in party attire, and will be greeted at the door by store personnel and their families.

Refreshments will be served at many stores, and local choral groups will entertain shoppers to help contribute to the holiday spirit.

The merchants group told the selectmen the special evening was meant to thank customers for their patronage during the past year, and build goodwill for the downtown shopping area as well.

The selectmen commended the merchants for what Jerry Silverman called "a terrific idea. This is planning for the community," the selectman said.

With interest rates still hovering in the stratosphere, the selectmen continued short-term borrowing to fund the $13.72 million school building project by signing $3 million in bond anticipation notes Monday night.

The board signed a total of 64 notes from five banks: $1 million from New England Merchants at 8.87 percent interest, net; $800,000 from Shawmut Boston, at 9.15 percent; $500,000 from Shawmut Boston at 8.45 percent, net; $250,000 from Essexbank at 8.55 percent; $250,000 from Arlington Trust at 9.10; and $200,000 from Bay State, at 8.95 percent.

The notes are due April 15, 1982.

They are the fourth set of bond anticipation notes the selectmen have signed to fund the construction project at Doherty School, West Junior High and Andover High School.

Town officials are waiting for interest rates to drop to 9.5 percent before going out on the bond market to permanently fund the project.

Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi said last week the town will be ready to sell the bonds in December if the market improves; however, he added, he is not optimistic that that will happen.

To Give Update On Hazardous Waste Status

An update on hazardous waste in Andover will be presented on Wednesday, Nov. 4 at 7:30 p.m. in the Veteran's Room in the Theater Building on Essex Street. The program is sponsored by the Andover League of Women Voters, Natural Resources Committee.

The town dump on Chandler Road, which was closed to trash dumping in 1973, was listed as one of 85 chemical waste dumps in New England. The congressional report, which listed these sites, emphasized that these dumps are not necessarily illegal or public health threats, but in many cases, that type of information is not known.

Andover town officials were aware of the possibly hazardous materials buried at the landfill before the release of the congressional survey. Concern was shown by Director of Public Works Robert McQuade when he attempted to isolate the involved area several years ago. The proximity of the landfill site to Fish Brook, which is part of Andover's water supply, prompted the Board of Health, Director of Public Health Everett Penney, and Director of Public Works McQuade to insert an article on last spring's town warrant requesting $30,000 to be used to determine what, if anything, should be done about the old landfill site.

The Wednesday evening program will include Penney, who will speak about the new regulations governing the disposal of hazardous material in Massachusetts, and McQuade, who will discuss the landfill site.

The public is invited to attend and participate in a question and answer session following the program.

Plum Island Walk, Nov. 8

The Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain club invites the public to join them for a walk and picnic (bring your own lunch) at Plum Island, Sunday Nov. 8. The group will meet at 11:30 a.m. in the first parking lot after the entrance to Parker Reservation. For more information please contact Bill Washburn or Lee Dodd.

Strange Happenings Around Shawsheen School

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 29, 1981

During the last few weeks strange goings-on have been noted around the Shawsheen School off Poor Street in Andover. Some people have noticed odd looking characters walking through the offices and climbing the stairways as well as roaring the grounds; and have commented that the stranger than usual creatures have been walking around the school dungeon.

Although explanations seem to point to the Haunted House "witch" is sponsored by the Department of Community Services and Andover's Community Theater to be held on Thursday, Oct. 29, and Friday, Oct. 30, between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m., no one seems to be confirming anything at the Shawsheen School.

Howls, growls and scampering feet are just a few of the eerie sounds filtering down from the attic. Heavy feet dragging chains along the staircases and cold breezes blowing slowly through the halls have the doors creaking at every turn and have put most of the workers in the building on constant guard.

Last year's Haunted House attracted 500 werewolves, witches, ghosts and monsters and this year the old school building seems to be attracting its best. Crawly creatures resembling overgrown insects have adopted the school as a winter residence. . . watch where you step! There are giant spiders crawling along the walls and floors, and loathsome creatures hiding in the dark shadows. Can you trust these creatures who will guide you through the building? Will they lead you to safety? Will you be able to escape from the evils who protect the building? Find out next week, if you dare.

Small children as well as cowards—beware! Adults may want to enter the House to protect their children—beware, you may make larger targets for the screeeeching bats, howling werewolves.

Andover Community Theater and the Community Services Department invite you to enjoy some old-time Halloween fun by visiting the Haunted House between 6:30 and 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 29 and Oct. 30. A small fee is charged at entrance.

R-Value

Before installing insulation, you should check the material's R-value. The R-value, the standard measurement of the material's resistance to heat transfer, tells how much fuel savings potential can be anticipated for the insulation dollar. Also, coverage and settling qualities should be checked to insure getting the most for the investment.

Patient Data To Be Central

Beginning Monday, Nov. 2, anyone being admitted or having lab work done at Lawrence General Hospital (LGH) will be registered through a centralized patient registration area before being directed to other areas of the hospital.

In the past, information concerning using LGH's ancillary services was gathered by individual hospital departments. This sometimes led to incomplete billing information which had to be obtained from people "after the fact," explained Robert Tremblay of Lawrence, administrative coordinator of fiscal affairs.

"Accurate billing information is the main thing we want to see come out of patient registration," stated Tremblay.

"It will also take the registration work away from busy lab personnel and other patient care personnel who should not have to be doing this work anyway," Tremblay continued.

The laboratory will be the first department handled by the patient registration area. Under the new system people coming to LGH for lab work will fill out all necessary forms in the newly remodeled admitting area on the first floor before being sent to the lab. Eventually, all other types of out-patients (except emergency admissions) would be registered through this central office.

The new All Savers Certificates allow you to earn up to $2,000 in tax-free interest if you file a joint federal income tax return. Or up to $1,000 if you file an individual return.

It's a new type of savings account created by Congress. It carries a one-year term and a low minimum deposit of just $500. And it is a deposit, so your certificate will be insured by the F.D.I.C.

The All Savers Certificate will pay you 70% of the rate set at the most recent auction of the one-year U.S. Treasury Bill. To see exactly how much that can mean for you, study the table.

The Andover Locomotive

This is a drawing of the locomotive "Andover" which was found among the papers of the late George E. Davis, iron plant founder. Found by his son, William G. Davis, the Andover Historical Society was presented with the drawing in 1923. It is believed that the engine operated through Andover village in the years 1836 through 1846 and was probably built prior to the formation of the Lawrence Iron Works in what is now known as the Everett Mill buildings.

Andover Railroading To Be Discussed Sunday

The crowd murmured excitedly. Men squinted and peered into the distance. Children darted about, squealing, until someone shouted, "Quiet! Here it comes!" The low and far-away rumbling became louder and closer. The crowd dropped back, suddenly nervous. It was June 1835. The railroad had come to Andover!

This scene, with many others, will be vividly described in a program of slides and narrative entitled "Andover Railroading" to be presented by Frank Haggerty at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St., Sunday, Nov. 1, at 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. The admission charge includes a tour of the house and barn.

The presentation will retrace the route of the long-vanished Andover-Wilmington Railroad as it appears today and will describe the role and operation of the railroad from its beginnings in the 1830s until it was replaced in 1847 by the Boston and Maine Railroad. The Boston and Maine will itself be shown in numerous slides and its history in Andover recounted, covering the period 1847 to 1947.

To Conduct Sports Night

Boy Scout Troop 75 of St. Augustine's Parish will conduct a Sports Night at the Greater Lawrence Vocational School, River Road, on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 6:30 p.m.

A talk by nationally-known sportscaster Curt Gowdy will be the feature of the evening. Also included, following the buffet dinner, will be a movie of humorous NFL plays and the awarding of door prizes.

Tickets for the event may be purchased at the Andover branches of the Valley Bank or Andover Savings Bank. Tickets will not be sold at the door.

Much of the history of America is the history of railroading. Railroads were a technological advance which thrilled an earlier generation of Americans, even as this country's achievements in space have absorbed us in recent decades. Railroads emphatically and permanently altered the course of American history and made possible the rapid conquest of the American continent. Andover was in the forefront of this movement.

The Andover and Wilmington Railroad was planned and financed by prominent Andover citizens such as Amos Blanchard and Abraham Marland, beginning in 1833. It was one of the earliest railroads in the United States and extended initially from a junction in Wilmington with the Boston and Lowell Railroad. It was later extended through North Andover to Haverhill. With the rise of the mill era, however, a railroad was more urgently needed along the river to service the new mills and the railroad was relocated.

The slides and commentary by Frank Haggerty illustrate both of these railroad routes and will provide a fascinating glimpse into Andover's role in the great era of railroads.

The Andover Historical Society is a non-profit educational institution open to both members and the public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the Society office, open 9 to 5, Monday through Friday.

GCA Has 27 Additional Acres For 'Corporate Use' In West Andover

The GCA Corporation's Andover plant, currently one of the largest one-story manufacturing plants in the state, may someday be joined by a sister plant on a nearby site.

Last fall GCA acquired the former Jacobson farm, located between River Road and the Merrimack River, from the Jacobson family at an undisclosed price. The 27-acre site is reserved for "general corporate purposes," a company spokesman said this week.

"There are no plans at all for building on the site at this time," Kathryn Wardrop, manager of GCA's news bureau explained. But the site was desirable to the firm because it is convenient to the existing Andover plant, which is GCA's largest manufacturing facility, she said.

The current plant is located on a 30-acre site on Shattuck Road in the West Andover Industrial Tech Park, east of Route 93; the Jacobson farm acreage is located west of the highway.

GCA's Andover plant, one story high spread over six acres, totals 300,000 square feet (larger than six football fields). It is one of the five largest one-story manufacturing plants in Massachusetts.

The $18 million building was dedicated last April. There are currently some 400 employees working there, and about 1,000 are expected to work on the site by the middle of next year.

The plant is used for the manufacture and testing of DSW Wafer Steppers, described by GCA as a "highly automated electro-optical-mechanical system" that prints the integrated circuit pattern on silicon wafers, from which semiconductor devices are made.

Milton Greenberg of Andover is president of the company, which has its corporate headquarters in Bedford, Mass.

School Building Maintenance Shows Marked Improvement

During the five years that Alfred L. Hart has served as plant engineer for the school department, the maintenance of school property has come "a long ways," Hart told the School Committee last week — and the committeemen agreed.

While upkeep of school buildings was once done only on "a crisis basis," in recent years Hart has shaped an energy conservation program, and is now aiming toward what he called a "high-level maintenance program. There is still a long way to go," he explained.

In a written report to the school committee presented last Tuesday night, Hart described reroofing projects and other measures taken to save energy dollars at the schools.

Replacing school roofs has resulted in "the quickest payback of expenditures," the engineer said, by improving the insulation values of the roofs. He expects significant fuel savings at South School this year, for example, because 70 skylights have been removed there, and the entire roof insulated.

Bancroft, West Elementary, Shawsheen and West Junior High are also sporting new roofs, and blown-in insulation has been added to unfinished attic areas of the Shawsheen as well.

To prevent more loss of heat, ill-fitting doors have been rebuilt at Andover High, West Junior, South and Shawsheen; similar work is scheduled for West Elementary. The new doors include vandal-resistant hardware, Hart added.

And to push warm air down from the high ceilings toward the students seated below, large fans have been installed in the high school library, he said. The fans will not only stop the thermostats from calling for heat as often, but will improve air circulation in the library year-round as well.

Fans have been used successfully at Bancroft, and may be installed in more rooms in the future, Hart indicated.

A new gas water heater has been installed in Bancroft, but plans to replace the high school's electric water heater with gas heaters have been delayed by new construction there, the engineer said. Sanborn's water heating system is also being evaluated.

Oil burners have also been replaced at South, West Elementary, and Shawsheen, and new burners are scheduled for West Junior and possibly Sanborn.

Other energy conservation steps the maintenance department has taken recently include caulking around windows and doors, installing water-saving devices in some school toilets, pressure-washing some univent heaters during the summer, and replacing some lighting fixtures.

Currently under consideration, Hart added, are vestibules for entrances at South and Sanborn, and a heating control system for West Junior High similar to one now used at the high school.

On the maintenance front, Hart continued, "We are more than holding our own and, with a few changes, we could reach a high-level maintenance program."

Hart said that "quite a bit of aesthetic work" has been done at the schools, including painting, flooring, and masonry, so that the "appearance of the buildings has been improved."

And a great deal of equipment has been improved as well.

But, he added, his department could still use more skilled tradesmen and more unskilled workmen to assist them, "qualified and cooperative" outside contractors, better workshop and storage facilities along with better tools, supplies, equipment and more maintenance vehicles, and "qualified" secretarial help.

One major problem, Hart noted, is the difficulty of attracting skilled employees, because school department salaries cannot compete with those offered by private contractors. And when contractors must be called in, their work proves "very expensive. Our policy is to do whatever we can in-house," he explained.

Committeeman Michael Giammusso asked that when Hart reports on his maintenance priorities for the coming year as part of the budget process, he include a report on "safety issues" at the schools.

Chairman Joseph Finn complimented Hart both on his accomplishments and on the report, calling it "very well-done. The information is pleasing."

"You have certainly saved money on our tax bills," Finn told the engineer, "and I would like to see more progress toward a high-level maintenance program during this year's budget process."

To Discuss Green Area Options

In response to worried land owners and concerned town boards, the League of Women Voters of Andover is sponsoring an informational meeting Tuesday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Theater Building's second floor room on Essex Street.

The meeting, featuring Atty. Judith Pickett of the Conservation Law Foundation, will cover the options available to landowners who now, with Andover's 100 percent revaluation, feel that they may no longer be able to hold on to or pay taxes on their land. Tax implications, gifts, conservation easements and restrictions are some of the topics to be covered. Members of town boards dealing with these issues—the Conservation Commission, Planning Board and selectmen—are invited to attend, as are neighborhood associations and landowners.

Atty. Pickett and the Conservation Law Foundation have been informing Conservation Commissions, Planning Boards and landowners across the state of Massachusetts about many conservation issues, such as earth removal, wetlands protection and sub-division control. The foundation is a non-profit organization which keeps informed on the current conservation-related laws and is dedicated to informing the citizenry.

Chamber To Salute Industry

New and expanding industry in Greater Lawrence will be saluted by the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. The salute, according to program chairman Wallace Bolton, vice president of manufacturing for Bolton-Emerson, Inc., is to recognize the economic foundation that industry provides for the Greater Lawrence community.

"When a manufacturing plant expands or moves into Greater Lawrence," Bolton stated, "there is a net addition to income in the local community. The new payroll dollars flow into the cash registers of local merchants and into the coffers of local banks. Since the plant may purchase many materials, utilities and services locally, the Greater Lawrence economy expands. This economic expansion is reflected in increases in jobs, housing, school enrollment and other concomitants of general community growth."

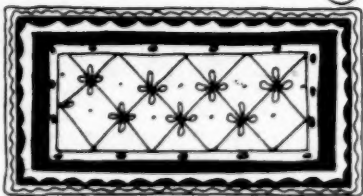

The Industry Salute will take place at a special luncheon on Friday, Nov. 20, at the Indian Ridge Country Club in Andover.

The chamber is presently seeking to identify those industries that are new or expanding. A committee has been established to help in this regard. Members of the committee are: Eugene O'Neill, economic development director, Lawrence; John Gillmore, community development director, Andover; Susan St. Pierre, town planner, North Andover; Colleen Cronin, community development department, Methuen; David Roberts, Bay Bank Merrimack Valley; Gordon Dillon, Bay State National Bank; John Sullivan, Arlington Trust; Charles Kamitian, Bay State Gas; Albert Willete and Maura Bromball, Massachusetts Electric.

Criteria for the salute program are threefold: 1. A new industry with five or more employees; 2. An expanding industry, with a significant number of new employees (minimum of five for small business), or a significant capital investment; 3. The opening or expansion must have occurred in 1981.

The committee would appreciate information from the public on new or expanding industry so as not to miss any eligible firms. For information, contact Laurence Smith at the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

Tufts Philosopher Films Brain-Wracking Experiment

Daniel Dennett has gone out of his mind — or, more precisely, his mind has gone out of him.

About three years ago, the Andover resident and Tufts University professor of philosophy, had his brain surgically removed. Linked to antennae on his head with a multitude of tiny radio transceivers, it was left safely suspended in a vat of ginger ale-like liquid, while his body went off on a perilous adventure.

Unbelievable? Yes, until you know that the surgery took place not in the uncompromising world of reality, but in the more flexible realm of the thought experiment.

Such experiments, in which an investigator hypothesizes a set of conditions which would be difficult or impossible to create in reality, then thinks the conditions through in an intelligent and realistic fashion, allow researchers to "deduce important conclusions," according to Dennett. He notes that such thought experiments were used by Einstein in his work on relativity and helped Galileo to establish important principles about the speed of falling objects.

In philosophy, of course, an experiment is likely to yield more provocative questions than hard-and-fast answers, and so it was with Dennett's out-of-his-head "experience," which he wrote about in an essay titled "Where Am I?" included in his book Brainstorms: Philosophical Essays on Mind and Psychology (Bradford Books, 1978).

"Where Am I?" is a science fiction account wherein Dennett tells in the first person of his adventure, which entails retrieving a subterranean warhead (called a Supersonic Tunneling Underground Device, or STUD) that the Department of Defense, NASA and Howard Hughes have collaborated to produce and have accidentally lodged under Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Since the STUD's radioactivity is potentially damaging to brain tissue, Dennett must empty his cranial cavity before he can be sent on his mission.

While the story is distinctly fanciful, colored with puns and amusing observations, some of the questions Dennett raises are essential philosophical problems. Central among them, as the essay's title hints, is the location of self.

Is Dennett floating in the vat, he muses, or is he walking around in the radio-controlled body? Using what he calls a "favorite philosopher's ploy," he assigns names to things for argument's sake, designating the body as Hamlet and the brain as Yorick.

Thus removed, he can muse more freely. Does Dennett lie within Hamlet? No, for philosophers doing thought experiments about brain transplants have agreed that "If Tom and Dick switch brains, then Tom is the fellow with Dick's former body."

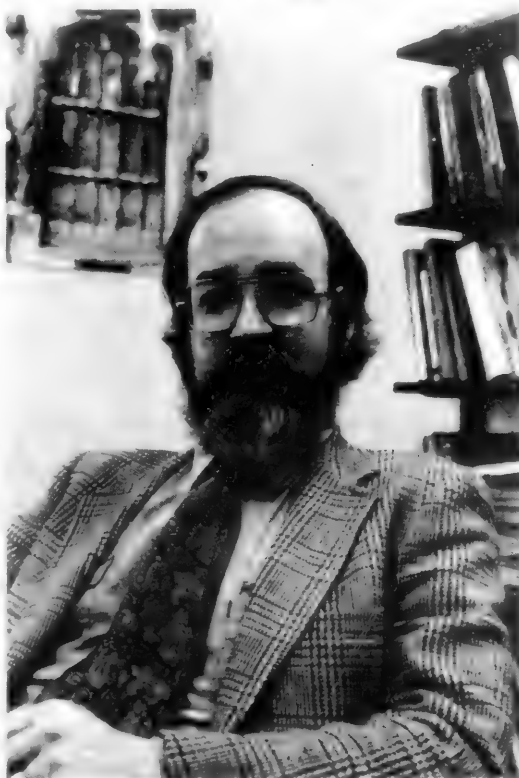

Is he in Yorick? Not likely, he feels, for, "How could I be in the vat and not about to go anywhere, when I was so obviously outside the vat looking in and beginning to make guilty plans to return to my room for a substantial lunch?"

Gradually, Dennett evolves a generalized conclusion: "Dennett is wherever he thinks he is . . . At any given time a person has a point of view, and the location of the point of view . . . is also the location of the person."

Besides being a both entertaining and thought-provoking segment of a book which won the author substantial praise in reviews by several of the world's most eminent social scientists, Dennett's thought experiment also attracted the attention of producers for the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), which is preparing a seven-hour science documentary on current brain research.

Dennett, who at 39 is chairman of Tufts' philosophy department and rapidly becoming known as a foremost philosopher of the mind, with his work currently focusing on brain science, psychology and artificial intelligence, was first sought out as a consultant for the series, which will air in Great Britain in April 1982. Later he was tapped as a more active participant.

He was filmed on location in Massachusetts last spring, recreating a classic psychology experiment called a dichotic listening test, which illustrates the brain's capacity for highly sophisticated information processing which most people are not aware that they possess.

Daniel Dennett

But, perhaps more interestingly, Dennett flew last month to London, where he filmed a screen dramatization of a portion of "Where Am I?" as part of the seven-hour documentary, not only discussing the thought experiment and other aspects of brain science but also making his acting debut in the role — of course — of Dennett.

Moreover, Dennett, who was born in Boston but earned his doctoral degree in philosophy at Oxford University, will travel to England three times more in the near future — once to film another BBC presentation.

That engagement, scheduled for November, will consist of an hour-long interview of Dennett by Dr. Jonathan Miller. Miller, a stage actor, noted Shakespearean director, medical doctor and television personality, recently wrote, directed and appeared in "The Body in Question," a BBC science documentary series which was shown on public television in this country and which prompts Dennett to quip, "Jonathan Miller is the Carl Sagan of the human body." He will interview Dennett as part of a 15-program series called "States of Mind," featuring talks on current developments in the field of psychology with some of the world's most famous psychologists. It will be shown on BBC in fall 1982.

Dennett's next planned trip to England will be in April 1982 for an international conference on philosophy and artificial intelligence sponsored by the Thysen Foundation, and during the following academic year he will travel to his alma mater to deliver the John Locke Lecture Series.

An invitation to deliver the annual series, which consists of six lectures by a philosophy professor associated with an American university, is one of the most prestigious distinctions in the field. Dennett's three immediate predecessors were Hilary Putnam, of Harvard; H.P. Grice, of the University of California at Berkeley, and David Kaplan, of the University of California at Los Angeles.

"I travel a lot," Dennett comments, noting that he will be a guest at Rockefeller University in a few weeks, working with the Cognitive Ethology Group within Rockefeller's biology department; that he spent spring vacation 1981 in Berlin at an international conference on animal intelligence, a field that is of growing interest to him; that he was on the faculty for a six-week institute on psychology and the philosophy of mind at the University of Washington in Seattle last summer, and that he will speak in the months ahead in the psychology department at the University of Pennsylvania and at several conferences in Canada.

In addition, Dennett is about to see the publication of his third book, The Mind's I, due to be released by Basic Books in October. The volume, subtitled Fantasies and Reflections on Self and Soul, was co-authored with Douglas R. Hofstadter, who last year won the Pulitzer Prize for his book Gödel, Escher, Bach and who approached Dennett with the idea of collaborating on a book after he had read Brainstorms and reviewed it for the New York Review of Books.

A trade book for "the intellectually curious lay public," The Mind's I includes "fiction, fantasies, thought experiments and dialogues, all illuminating the nature of consciousness and the self," Dennett says, while the publisher's promotional material promises a "mind-jolting exploration of art and science, humor and philosophy . . . designed to entice the imagination into unexpected places."

Presented Award By Watershed Council

Robert L. Clark

Robert L. Clark of Andover, president of New England Cablevision, Inc., received an Award of the Year from the Merrimack River Watershed Council at the council's annual meeting held Oct. 25 in North Andover.

A message from Senator Paul Tsongas to Bob Clark inscribed in the Senator's new book, "The Road From Here," read, "To a fellow director of the Merrimack River Watershed Council, in appreciation of your early and unstinting support of the Council."

The Merrimack River Watershed Council is a public, non-profit citizen organization with a membership of over 650 individuals and organizations concerned with river life and water quality in and along the Merrimack.

They plan an annual Rivers Day celebration, "which draws attention to the countless opportunities presented by the promise of a fishable/swimmable Merrimack."

A 16-page newspaper is published twice a year by the council for people interested in issues affecting the river.

Commuters Find Cars Ticketed

12 THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 29, 1981

The struggle for a place to park in Andover last week finally touched a handful of bus commuters who have been parking peacefully on a short stretch of North Main Street for several years.

About eight commuters who hop aboard an early bus to Boston every morning have been squeezing their cars onto North Main Street, heading south, between Lowell and Balmoral streets, one commuter told the selectmen Monday night.

But last Thursday and Friday, parking tickets unexpectedly popped up on their windshields, commuter Vahey Gulezian of Arthur Road complained. He said the area had "suddenly" been posted as a two-hour parking area, to match the rest of the street, which has been posted for two-hour parking for some time now.

Where are bus commuters supposed to park now? Gulezian asked the board.

The selectmen had no immediate answers, but they were sympathetic.

Jerry Silverman suggested that the small town-owned parking lot in Shawsheen Square should be reserved for commuters; it is currently filled by employees of the nearby Andover Companies, he said.

The selectman indicated that employees of the large insurance company swallow up most of the available parking spaces in the Shawsheen Square area.

The ban on overnight parking on Balmoral Street should also be enforced, Silverman added.

Gulezian pointed out that no parking is allowed in the lot Silverman mentioned until 7:30 a.m., and by then many commuters are already on their way to Boston. If the hour were changed to 6 a.m., those commuters could be accommodated, he said.

Chairman Norma Gammon suggested that negotiations be reopened between the town and DASA to let the town use the DASA lot, located further down North Main Street and off Stevens Street. Earlier negotiations for the lot fell through.

Acting Town Manager Tony Torrissi pointed out that parking and traffic present problems all along North Main Street, where there is "direct competition" for parking spaces among "people who live there, people who work there, people who want to go shopping there, and commuters.

"I don't think the answer is easy," Torrissi added.

Selectman Donn Byrne recommended the temporary suspension of the two-hour limit on North Main where the commuters park "until we resolve this with the Andover Companies."

And Gammon said the board would "work with" the police chief and the Andover Companies to come up with a permanent solution to the commuters' dilemma.

New Merrimack President Speaks Of Future Mission

Tracing briefly the 35-year history of the college, Rev. John E. Deegan, OSA, spoke of the future course of Merrimack College Saturday afternoon during ceremonies accompanying his inauguration as fourth president of the school conducted by the Augustinian Fathers.

Joined by faculty, family, trustees, students and visiting delegates from colleges and universities, Fr. Deegan asked the college family to, "Come, take my hand and let us walk forward together in trust, which must be earned; in hope which is the light of a Christian community; in love, which is the dynamic of all our encounters - and always let us walk together in peace..." in accepting his new responsibilities.

The new president suffered a weak spell from the heat of cable television lights at the outset of the ceremonies, but returned to deliver his inaugural address to an encouraging and understanding round of applause.

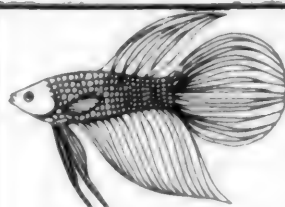

After tracing the history of the college, Fr. Deegan noted that Merrimack was now at the crossroads, having weathered the turbulent 60's, the events of the 70's and now examining external events which will shape the '80's and the future of Merrimack College.

"To accomplish our mission we will need new structures to supplant the classical ones that are not flexible enough for the high technology of the 80's. We must develop models that will help our students to integrate knowledge and understand the inter-relationships of things and act. We must help them understand not only the facts but the consequences of actions; we must develop models that will help them understand the motivational and ethical aspects of life and a realization of man's interdependence. Structures that are truly interdisciplinary and inter-divisional are to be encouraged.

"The mission of the Catholic college in the 80's is indeed awesome, multifaceted and exciting. Its articulation and implementation is a challenge that we dare not refuse. Let us grasp the moment and move on together for our cause is indeed just and it will endure," the president said.

Expressing a concern for peace and justice and the need to prepare students to meet that challenge, Fr. Deegan referred to the assassination of the Anwar Sadat and the attempts on the life of both the Pope and President Reagan.

Stating that such acts are symptomatic of men's belief that violence can somehow bring a solution to a problem, Fr. Deegan said, "If our graduates are to be true messengers of peace, then there is a need to integrate the Gospel message of social justice into our curriculum. If we are to be serious about the Gospel message of social justice, and serious we must be, then our college community must itself witness to justice and human rights in its daily activities. We must look beyond our campus to the greater community and use our resources in helping solve the problems that detract from the quality of life."

Inaugural Address

Rev. John E. Deegan, OSA, Ph.D., new president of Merrimack College, delivers his inaugural address.

Fr. Deegan spoke of the immigrant challenge, noting that the school was located adjacent to Lawrence, the "Immigrant City." He said the dream for a Catholic education should be no less a dream for the grandchildren and great-grandchildren of our first immigrants or the new wave of immigrants who are the race minorities, blacks, women, Asian refugees, the old and, particular, those of Hispanic origin. "I believe that within the confines of our limited resources, we have an obligation to help identify and attempt to respond to the legitimate educational needs of this new group of immigrants," he said.

Of the increasing financial pressures facing educational institutions, Fr. Deegan commented, "It is

East Junior High Happenings

by Tracy Lasch and Jennifer Tucker

To help us remember this school year, we have started our yearbook and school newspaper committees.

The yearbook advisor once again is seventh grade English teacher Miss Judith Rickley. The staff has already begun to get ads to sponsor this year's book. We have a large group of students who have volunteered to work on the committee: Krisna Basu, Jennifer Baun, Shari Brodie, Kristin Carey, Rick Carey, Suzanne Curley, John Drake, Bill Evans, Liz Harrington, Lauren Hastings, Christine Jensen, Tracy Lasch, Peggy Lee, Lauren McCormack, Kim Murphy, Dede O'Neil, Stephanie Patten, Cathy Smith, Bety Tracy, Maribeth Trepanier, Karen Voutiritsa and Sally White. Congratulations to our editor Michelle Saunders and assistant editor, Kim Olsen.

The school newspaper titled, The East Gazette, has as its advisor this year Edward Bennett of our foreign language department. It is hoped there will be monthly issues with revolving editors working in pairs for each issue. The issues consist of articles concerning current school activities, poetry and artwork. This month's editors are Karen Reddington and assistant editor Linda Rensink. Other members working on this issue are Ed Anuff, Kristen Carey, Rick Carey, Leigh Cypres, Jonie Finegold, Paul Gulla, Kim Guzowski, Amy Hamilton, Chris Harvey, Arnold Kohn, Bonnie McLellan, Karen Mitchell, Rick Napolitano, Debby Palmer, Jennifer Riehl, Rose Smeltzer, Chris Vallee, Barbara Wahr, Mary Watkinson and Heather Whyte.

To catch up on the soccer team reports, the team played a fantastic game against the Phillips Academy

JV III team winning by a score of 3-2. John Recesso scored unassisted and Han Wook Kang scored on a pass from Gage Perry and John Drake scored on a pass from Thahn Nguyen.

Friday the team played against the Greater Lawrence Voke again winning by a score of 3-1. Han Wook Kang scored two goals; one on a pass from Barry Tucker, the other on a pass from Thahn Nguyen who also scored a goal on a pass from Barry Tucker.

The team played their cross-town rival West Junior High and won 4-2. Mark Asgierrsson, Barry Tucker, Thahn Nguyen and David Eckman all scored goals while Dave Casanave, Mark Asgierrsson and John Drake had the respective assists.

In a game against the Pike School the final score was 4-3. Barry Tucker scored a hat trick from his left wing position and Dan Connolly scored the final goal. Dave Casanave assisted Barry Tucker's last goal while Lisa Marcella passed to Dan Connolly for his goal.

Mal Galvin, Craig Ziady (goalies) Dave Webster, Sean Foster and Gage Perry turned in great performances defensively as John Recesso, Han Wook Kang, Thahn Nguyen, Barry Tucker, David Eckman, Dave Casanave and John Drake did equally well on offense.

Last week the football team played against Haverhill and lost by a score of 14-8. Tom Lutz scored the touchdown and extra point for East. Scott Lattanzio and Alan Long both played a fantastic game.

The team played Billerica on Friday with a victory of 30-6. Tom Lutz scored two touchdowns. He also threw a pass to Rob Detroia who scored. Greg Hop-wood also scored a touchdown while Dan Carignan scored extra points. Outstanding players on offense were John Barry, Rob Nelson and Scott Lattanzio. Defense players included Alan Long, Scott Gibson and Brian Garside.

Tomorrow the team plays against Methuen - good luck!

imperative for the Catholic college to take control of events by careful long and short range planning. There is a need to tap new markets and form new alliances. We must reach out to our sister institutions and share our resources, talents and dreams."

Greetings were expressed by representatives of the faculty senate, alumni and student body. The inaugural address was given by Francis L. Broderick, Commonwealth professor at University of Massachusetts, Boston and a Merrimack College trustee.

Rev. Robert J. Welsh, O.S.A., S.T.D., chairman of the board of trustees, conducted the formal investiture of Fr. Deegan as president.

Workshop Planned For Montessori

The Andover School of Montessori, Inc. held its first annual Fall Field Day at Recreation Park on Sunday, Oct. 24.

The social committee, headed by board of director member Sandra Stewart of Andover, planned the activities. Children and parents were able to participate in games and activities especially suited for the pre-school child. Beanbag toss, sack races, basketball toss and ring toss were enjoyed by the children.

Margaret Fahy, teacher at the school, was dressed as a clown and made clown faces on the children. Pony rides were also available.

During the afternoon, Albert Manzi III, nephew of Sandra Stewart, presented a magic show. A giant peanut hunt was also part of the festivities.

The highlight of the afternoon was the parent-child softball game. All involved felt that they were the winners.

There will be a parent meeting featuring a workshop presented by the teachers on Nov. 3. Parents will be able to work with the practical life and sensorial apparatus which are a part of the materials used in the Montessori classroom. Anyone interested in this meeting should call the school for further information.

Teaching Babysitters

Learning lifesaving techniques was a part of the annual babysitting course provided junior high school students during the past six weeks. Red Cross instructors joined with the Andona Society for this portion of the six-week course. From left, Cindy and Robin Babcock watch as Lisa Shaer is instructed in resuscitation methods assisted by Corrine Konstantinakos of Andona, Mark Savukinas, Red Cross volunteer instructor, and Christine DeAngelis, Andona.

Andona Instructs Babysitters

If your child fell down the stairs or unexpectedly choked while you were gone, would your babysitter know what to do? There are 109 seventh and eighth graders who have learned how to react more competently to these and many other situations during the Andona Society's Babysitter's Course co-sponsored by the Andover Department of Community Services.

The six week course, an annual offering to students at East and West Junior High School, was also offered this year for the first time through the Andover-North Andover YMCA. To receive their course certificates, students must attend five of the six classes and must pass a test at the end of the course.

Special guest speakers donated their professional knowledge each week of the course. Most recently, Brenda O'Brien and Mark Sauvikinas, volunteer Red Cross instructors from the Greater Lawrence Chapter showed a film and demonstrated how to handle choking using special infant models. Then each student had a chance to practice the method.

Detective Joseph Hastings of the Andover Police Department covered home safety.

Dr. Robert Nelken, MD of Andover Pediatrics and Christine DeAngelis, a nurse, covered a variety of emergency and non-emergency medical situations.

Lieutenant Edward King, Private Walter Winwood, The Andover Fire Department discussed fire, first aid, and child safety. Five month-old Hillary Kelley, eight month old Kyle Levner, and Raggedy Ann were brought in Cynthia Kelley, Maureen Collins and Maureen Spinelli; and Corinne Konstantinakos respectively, to demonstrate infant and child care, development and amusement.

This year's Andona instructors were Lee Anne Center, Maureen Collins, Christine DeAngelis, Cynthia Kelley, Corinne Konstantinakos and Maureen Spinelli.

Outing Club Begins Activities

19 THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 29, 1981

The West Junior High School Outing Club continued its fall program of activities with a day trip to pick apples at the Goodale Orchards in Ipswich on Saturday, Oct. 3.

The trip featured a visit to the commercial orchard to pick apples, observe processing and grading procedures, and view cider pressing in the farm store.

One of several outdoor education programs, the purpose of the outing club is to provide significant and worthwhile experiences in the out-of-doors.

The outing club offers a wide variety of safe, healthy, and stimulating outdoor activities during the fall and spring. The club provides transportation, tentage, kitchen equipment, and instruction for these school-sponsored day and overnight trips. Each student is responsible for providing his or her personal equipment.

Under the direction of Les Taylor, assisted by Jay Darrin and Brian Staples. The club offers such action-oriented experiences as backpacking, birding, camp-

At South

Schools, Library Observe U.N. Week

United Nations Week was celebrated in Andover last week with programs and assemblies at the elementary and junior high schools, and a town-wide reception for foreign students at Memorial Hall Library.

Foreign doll displays were featured at several schools and children came dressed in native costumes depicting their family's origins for assemblies at South and Bancroft Schools.

A student assembly was presented by the fifth grade at Bancroft School on Friday. Many of the children dressed in authentic costumes from many other countries. They sang "It's A Small World," "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing," and "America."

Another highlight of the week was a "United Nations Week Art Contest," consisting of two divisions: Primary (grades K-3) and Intermediate (grades 4-6).

The winners were:

Primary: John Kulcsar, first; Heather St. John, second; John Caruso, third; Amy Morris, Stephanie Crane and Jason Stableford, honorable mention.

Intermediate: Alison Climo, first; Marcy Barnes, second; Chris Hart, third; Lisel Goetze, Paromita Shah and Kelly Moynihan, honorable mention.

The various United Nations Week activities were supervised by specialists Mary Ellen Smith, Frances McCormick, Pauline Sparages, Barbara Fogg, and were coordinated by Robert Kessler, grade five teacher.

Andover High School students from Mrs. Patricia Dye's United Nations class led discussions with fifth and sixth graders at South, Bancroft and West schools on world distribution of food in relation to population.

At the junior highs they discussed the issue of world disarmament.

Fifteen students from foreign countries studying in Andover and North Andover were welcomed to the community at the library on Thursday evening at a reception hosted by American Field Service and the library. Japan, Laos, Brazil, India, Norway, Germany, Russia, France, England and Italy were represented.

• The observance of United Nations week provides an opportunity locally to focus on the U.N. organization as the best place to resolve global problems and to promote world peace and understanding, according to Dorothy Sherrerd, Andover's U.N. Day coordinator. Working with Mrs. Sherrerd were Daniel Leclerc, Patricia Dye, Robert Kessler, Betty Keefe and Elizabeth Cahoon.

Weekend Concerts At Phillips Academy

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 29, 1981

On Friday evening, Oct. 30, at 8 p.m., the music department of Phillips Academy will present a concert by the Academy Chamber Orchestra at the Cochran Chapel, located next to the Andover Inn.

The concert will include works by Brahms, Tchaikovsky, and the Concerto Grosso in d minor by Vivaldi, featuring three outstanding young string players: Patrick Powdermake, violin, from Newton; Jeffrey Rossman, violin, from Boston; and Enoch Wong, 'cello, from Salem.

Brahms, Academic Festival Overture, written to commemorate his receiving an honorary doctorate degree from Oxford University, was recently performed by the orchestra as part of the investiture festivities of the new headmaster, Donald J. McNemar.

Tchaikovsky's fantasy, Overture "Romeo and Juliet," was inspired by the drama of William Shakespeare and is a free adaptation of that work. It seems Tchaikovsky means to show the basic emotions of the drama rather than the specific story.

The orchestra, under the direction of William Thomas, is being concert-mastered by two fine young violinists: Eugene Chung of Tiffin, Ohio, and Lyn Sue Kahng of San Diego, both in the P.A. class of 1982.

On Sunday, Nov. 1, in the Cochran Chapel, the music department will present a concert of sacred music by the academy's three major choral organizations: the Concert Choir, the Cantata Choir and the Fidelio Society.

The Cantata Choir, one of the academy's touring organizations, will present the Bach Cantata BWV 131, "Aus der Tiefe" (Out of Darkness). Soloists will be tenors Greg Luke, Nicholas Morse and Chad Rosenberger; basses William Elias, Mark Orrell, Struan Robertson and William Storey. The solo oboe part will be played by Paul Hochman, a senior from Concord, MA.

This year the Cantata Choir and Orchestra are making tentative plans for a concert tour of Italy.

The Fidelio Society, one of the oldest amateur singing societies in America, will perform the Kyrie and Gloria from Missa Beata Virgine (for the Blessed Virgin) by Josquin Des Pres, a masterwork from the 16th century.

The Mozart "Vesperae Solennes de Confessore," K. 339, will conclude the program. The Academy Chorus, under the direction of Mimi Bravar, will perform excerpts from this great work. Joining the chorus for the soprano solos, and in particular the "Laudate Dominum," will be Beda Polanco, a graduate of the Conservatory of Puerto Rico. She received her Master's degree from the Boston Conservatory and has performed extensively throughout New England and the Caribbean, where she is from originally. Before joining the music department of the academy as a voice teacher, she worked for the Festival Casals and was a leading soprano with the Puerto Rico Opera and the Zarzuela Co. for several years. She performs regularly with the Boston Opera.

November Club Meets Monday

The November Club will hold its first meeting of the new season at the Club House on Monday, Nov. 2. Tea and coffee will be served at 1:15 p.m. The pourers are to be the two previous past presidents, Mrs. John T. Bangert and Mrs. Robert Vandro. Mrs. Rudolph Muto and Miss Ruth Hall will greet the guests. The flower arrangement for the tea table is being done by Mrs. Charles D. Sullivan.

The Speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Margaret McD. Taylor, art historian, writer and educator. Her subject is "Folk Art and Face Painters, 1790-1850." She will bring alive the intant painter in rural 19th century New England. Many of these paintings are still extant on the walls of homes, even in attics, and have been growing in value since the New York exhibition of American Folk Art about 1939.

It takes an hour for the human eye to get accustomed to seeing in the dark.

Choral Arts Group In Concert

The Haverhill Public Library will sponsor a concert by the Lawrence Choral Arts Society on Sunday, Nov. 15, at 3 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. A social hour with refreshments will follow the concert. Free tickets will be available beginning Nov. 3 at the library, 99 Main St., Haverhill, from the Haverhill Public Library Bookmobile and at the Haverhill Music Center, 2 Washington St., Haverhill.

The purpose of the concert is twofold: to introduce a choral group of high artistic quality to a potential new audience in Haverhill and to bring to public attention the musical resources of the Haverhill Public Library.

The Lawrence Choral Arts Society, formed four years ago by John Cice, its current musical director, is comprised of people who enjoy singing for their own pleasure and performing for the pleasure of an audience. With a broad ranging repertoire—from show tunes to classical pieces—the society has received widespread critical acclaim in the Greater Boston area. Last March it performed Rossini's "Sabat Mater" to standing ovations with the Melrose Philharmonic.

The social hour will provide the opportunity to meet the performers and to view a display of music books, scores and sheet music from the collection of the Haverhill Public Library. The library will also distribute copies of a newly revised directory

Planners Review Subdivision Proposal For River Road

Andover developer Mitchell Peterof would like to subdivide the seven-acre River Road parcel where he lives into six lots, and build five new homes on the land.

The Planning Board's first glance at the developer's definitive plans, along with the response to the plans during a public hearing Tuesday night, indicated that they will probably be approved with little fuss.

Engineer William McLeod of Andover Consultants, representing the developer, said Peterof lives at 315 River Road on a parcel just under seven and one-half acres, which is surrounded by the Deer Jump Reservation. That open land is under AVIS (Andover Village Improvement Society) control.

The developer proposes to build a 472-foot long cul-de-sac on the parcel, and surround it with five new house lots of at least one acre each, plus his own existing lot. The new road, to be called Winchester Drive, would run roughly parallel to Peterof Circle, and would be near (but across River Road from) Greybirch Road.

The driveways in the subdivision would exit onto the cul-de-sac, not River Road.

SCHOOL LUNCH MENU

MONDAY: Veal cutlet w/brown sauce, mashed potatoes, whole kernel corn, bread and butter, pudding w/topping, milk.

TUESDAY: Baked pizza, carrot, celery and cheese sticks, applesauce, milk.

WEDNESDAY: Bologna and cheese sub w/lettuce and tomato, buttered vegetable, fudge brownie, potato chips, milk.

THURSDAY: Spaghetti w/meatsauce, green beans, homemade biscuit, jello w/topping, milk.

FRIDAY: Tomato soup, grilled cheese sandwich, sliced carrots, assorted desserts, milk.

Senior Citizen

MONDAY: Stuffed peppers w/sauce, whipped potatoes, vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

TUESDAY: Road pork chunks w/gravy, mashed potatoes, vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

WEDNESDAY: Veal parmigiana, whipped potatoes, vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

THURSDAY: Baked macaroni and cheese, vegetable, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

FRIDAY: Batter fried fish portion, French fries, coleslaw, bread and butter, dessert, beverage.

McLeod told the planners.

The site slopes toward the Merrimack River and would drain into the river; there are no wetlands on the site, he added.

Peterof has also proposed giving a 30-foot strip of his land to AVIS, to be added to the reservation.

Community Development and Planning Director Jonathan Gilmore told the planners that the Board of Health has approved the plan, with the exception of two house lots: He indicated there may be some problem with the sub-surface sewage disposal system for those two lots.

Planning Board Chairman David Gravalles said he could see "no departures at all from the subdivision rules and regulations" in Peterof's plan, which the engineer termed "very cut-and-dried."

Gravalles noted that there would be no abutters on two sides of the subdivision.

During a very brief public hearing on the plans, questions were heard only from abutter Ida Broderick of Charlestown, who wondered how the plans would effect her land at 325 River Road. McLeod assured her that the new roadway and five homes would have no impact on her land.

If the plans are approved, McLeod said work on the roadway would probably begin this fall, and construction of the homes, possibly next spring. He said he did not know how much the homes would cost.

The planners have a Nov. 22 deadline for acting on the plans. No preliminary plan was submitted for the subdivision because, McLeod said, it did not seem necessary.

School Equipment Bids Authorized

By Sue Aucella Deacon

The school building committee last week authorized the acting town manager to advertise for bids on an estimated $255,625 worth of equipment to furnish new and renovated sections of Andover High School, West Junior High and the new Doherty Junior High.

That equipment represents phase two of the total estimated $1,197,800 equipment budget for the $13.72 million school building project.

The building committee four weeks ago authorized the manager to go out for bids on an estimated $499,000 worth of equipment under phase one of the four-phase budget. Those bids are due Nov. 3, and the committee can expect to evaluate them in early December, architect Herbert Glassman of Perley F. Gilbert Associates told the committee.

Meeting in joint session at the Lowell Street water treatment plant last Thursday night, the building committee and school committee heard a detailed report on equipment needed under phase two. The report, prepared by Glassman and Building Project Coordinator Richard McGrail, included explanations of what would become of the equipment currently filling existing areas.

Before the building committee took its vote, the school committee voted to accept the equipment report, finding that it met the educational requirements of the school building program.

At Doherty, phase two includes $49,888 for equipment to furnish the I.M.C. (library); $19,796.25 for the typing room; $25,307 for the music department; and $30,757.50 for the computer room and math lab, for a projected total of $125,748.75.

At West, only the new I.M.C. and reading area will be furnished under phase two, at an estimated $53,757.

And at Andover High, the I.M.C. will be equipped for an estimated $42,381, and the music room, for $33,738, for an estimated total of $76,119.

The estimated total for the three schools exceeds the $253,000 phase two total estimated in May by $2,625.

I.M.C. Program Advisor Annetta Freedman told the committee that the I.M.C. budget for the three schools was "really pared down to the bare minimum."

School committee members asked why the West I.M.C. appeared to have more funds allocated for book shelves and stacks than Doherty, pointing out that the two junior highs are supposed to offer equal facilities.

Glassman explained that the shelves would be of different shapes and sizes at the two schools, to fit into different sized rooms, but would add up to roughly the same amount of shelf space.

The high school budget includes $7,000 to expand the existing security system, Freedman pointed out.

Looking at the list of existing library equipment at East Junior High, building committee member Virginia Cole asked why much of it will be sent to the new high school I.M.C.

The old, unmatched pieces will probably look fine at the large high school I.M.C., Freedman replied, but new equipment is preferable for the new I.M.C.s at the two junior high schools. "You can't have a hodgepodge in there," she explained.

Moving on to the music department, Program Advisor Diana Kolben explained that the phase two budget would furnish equipment for a choral room and instrumental room at Doherty, and a choral room with storage and two instrumental rooms with storage at Andover High.

Music facilities will not be totally equal at both Doherty and West, McGrail told the committees, because only new and renovated areas may be equipped under the building program budget. Currently, there is no instrumental room at West, and the music room is shared with health classes, Kolben said.

A second music room could be added at West some time in the future, McGrail added.

Doherty's business department will get 30 new electric typewriters, five typewriter desks, and 30 typing chairs to furnish a new typing room under the phase two budget. Ten out of 35 existing tables and all existing 35 chairs at East have been called "obsolete and unsafe"; the 25 remaining tables will be used in the new typing room.

A new computer room at Doherty will feature 13 video terminals, Math Program Advisor James Murphy told the committees. Other departments, such as languages and social studies, will use the room as frequently as the math department, he pointed out.

The new math lab at the converted junior high will be furnished mostly with a student work table, chairs, bookcases and a storage cabinet under phase two. Furnishings in the existing math lab will either be moved to the new lab, or to the math department office.

The building committee tentatively scheduled a meeting for Nov. 19 to evaluate the phase one bids, which are due Nov. 3.

The next joint meeting of the school and school building committees will be held in December to hear McGrail and Glassman report on phase four of the equipment budget.

Phase three, which will be a smaller budget but more time-consuming to prepare, will be presented after the first of the year, McGrail indicated.

THERMOL ENGINEERING ENERGY SYSTEM ADAPTS TO YOUR PRESENT HEATING UNIT AND...

CAN REDUCE YOUR FUEL BILL BY AT LEAST 20% AND WE MEAN IT!
Oil & Gas Heat

Oil & Gas Heat

Save at least 20% of your heating bill with our energy system the first year or we guarantee your money back.

Our 3-phase system consists of a smartly styled, fully automatic solid state setback thermostat with simple finger tip multiple programming.

For hot water systems our inexpensive computer regulates the hot water in your heating system with the outside temp. Currently, your boiler is working unnecessarily to bring your water temp. to 180° for a room temp. of 68°. It does this because your boiler always thinks it's 10° outside. Our system tells your boiler the correct outside temperature and your boiler runs only to compensate for the difference. For example: If it's 40° outside, to maintain a room temp. of 68°, your boiler will be programmed to reach a water temp. of 120° instead of 180°.

Also, for tankless hot water systems,

Qualifies for 15% tax credit

our energy package gives you hot water only when you want it. The average family needs hot water only three hours a day, but your boiler is now running to give you hot water even when you don't need it. This waste is accelerated in the summer when there is no heat load. Our system programs for hot water only when you want it. In addition to program time, you can have hot water in three minutes by using a conveniently located dial.

The third phase of our system is a vent control that safely retains expensive heated air from going up the chimney. It heats faster and helps to get more heat from your fuel.

Our energy package includes professional installation and could pay for itself in less than two years. Just think, if your heating bill was $1,200.00 last year, it could have been $960.00 or less!

Trick Or Treat Is Saturday

Andover's little ghoulies and ghosties will have two and one-half hours to haunt the town Saturday night, from 5:30 to 8 p.m.

The Andover Police Department has set those hours for Halloween trick-or-treating this year. And more than 20 extra police officers will be on special duty Friday and Saturday nights to guard youngsters' safety and handle the usual holiday shenanigans.

The Andover family invited him to visit here while he is in the country to attend a meeting of the Twinning Association, a group which matches visitors to twin cities in foreign lands. Taylor also presented Johnson with a plaque from the namesake city.

Manager Candidates Given Chance To Reveal Names

The process of finding a new town manager for Andover has been put on hold once more while four of the latest candidates decide if they want to remain in the running.

A Superior Court judge last Friday told the selectmen they must reveal the names of those four men, who had been lined up for interviews two weeks ago. But the candidates must be given a "reasonable" amount of time to decide if they would rather withdraw their names from candidacy for the manager's position, the judge added.

Chairman Norma Gammon Monday night said she would define a reasonable amount of time as a week to ten days.

A fifth candidate has said from the start he would not object to having his name made public.

Superior Court Judge John T. Ronan of Peabody ordered the candidates' names released after reviewing affidavits from four of the candidates last Thursday, which explained why they wanted their names withheld.

Ronan ordered the selectmen not to continue their hiring process until they make the current candidates' identities public.

However, he added that the Lawrence Eagle-Tribune — which brought the Andover board to court to obtain the names — should not publish the names once the selectmen have revealed them.

None of the five men have yet been interviewed by the board. All were scheduled for interviews at Town Hall the week of Oct. 12, but those meetings were cancelled when the newspaper pressed for the names and the board ended up back in court.

The board left time on the agenda of their regular meeting Monday night for interviews, in hopes that some of the candidates would make up their minds by then, but no interviews were held this week.

The first round of manager interviews ended unsuccessfully two months ago, when the selectmen's first choice turned down their offer. Because the names of

Adding to the team's victory and Coach Collins' 100th MVC win was a colorful halftime show featuring floats made by each class. It's Time To Take Action Against The Moths

As the nights grow longer and the winter chill begins to set in, it is easy to forget about such springlike problems as Gypsy Moths.

But, selectmen were reminded this week of the problem which can beset Andover when the gray of the oncoming winter turns into the sunnier, more pleasant days of April and May and the onslaught of the caterpillars once again.

As indicated by health and public works officials this week, a recent survey of the town has come up with the revelation that if you thought this past year was bad, as far as gypsy moths are concerned, you've seen nothing yet.

An examination of the trees in and around Andover shows that next year can be expected to be even worse than the destruction wrought on the foliage this past spring.

And, it's not only trees that were affected. It was houses which in some cases were crawling with the furry creatures, and in some cases the interior of houses which were affected by the pesky, crawling creatures.

The seriousness of the problem can best be pointed out by the fact that should the trees in our environs be once again hit by gypsy moth infestation, it could bring disastrous results.

This past year trees made a comeback after being virtually stripped of foliage in the early spring.

But, trees can absorb just so much punishment as rendered by the gypsy moths before succumbing to a continued interruption of its natural way of life.

Putting it simply, another onslaught like this past spring could well spell doom for Andover's tree-lined streets and properties.

Think, for a moment, of the warning sounded by Director of Public Works Bob McQuade, who forecast utter destruction of the Shawsheen area, based on the egg-count of gypsy moths waiting to hatch and chomp off one of the village's most valuable assets---its greenery.

Environmentalists who are intent on saving the atmosphere and allowing nature to care for itself in its own way, would be hard-pressed to provide substantial opposition to a spraying program, or any other approved method of combating the problem brought on by gypsy moths.

Left to nature, the fuzzy-munchers will just continue to multiply. Birds have no use for them in their diet, nor, apparently does any other natural living thing.

The only solution to the problem therefore, seems to be to go forward with some kind of an approved program to protect the environment and keep Andover's roadsides and countryside green and healthy.

To be applauded are the efforts of those who have seen fit to go about gathering sufficient signatures to call for a special town meeting, to be called within the next several weeks to provide funds to move toward eradicating the problem.

It is suggested here that affirmative action by the townspeople follow that effort and when the special session is convened, the money be provided to combat a serious problem.

It will be the application of tax funds toward a program beneficial to the entire community.

Not First Captain

To the Editor of The TOWNSMAN:

Read in the Townsman today about the several members of the Police Department who have been promoted to Sergeant, Lieutenant and Captain, and the notation that the new Captain Lloyd Belbin is the first man to hold that rank in the Department.

I would point out that Captain Belbin is the second man to hold that position in the Department.

Back just about 50 years ago when Frank M. Smith was chief and because of his age and failing health (He was then in the 80's) the selectmen, feeling that a younger man should take over many of the duties and not wishing to retire the fine old gentleman, promoted Patrolman George A. Dane to the rank of Captain which he held for about two years when he was advanced to the rank of Chief upon Chief Smith's death. There was no civil service in those days; most men didn't retire. Policemen didn't even have a day off once a week until 1926. They started at about $35.00 a week and advanced in five years to $40 per week.

Those of us who have lived through the years from back beyond World War I have seen many changes.

Congratulations to the Officers who have been advanced and to all who serve on our fine Police Department.

William A. Doherty

Scope Of A Law

To The Editor of The TOWNSMAN:

Although Mr. Harris disclaims expressing views of the office of selectmen, of which he is a member, the last paragraph of his letter speaks in terms of "we" and "our." This implies his negative upon his disclaimer.

As much as the town charter may charge the selectmen with appointing a town manager, nowhere does it say that they may hire an entity to pick and choose amongst applicants. Doing so injects a third party into the hiring procedure; as well as costing the town money to perform selectmen's work.

By training and experience even the least qualified applicant for town manager would have the acumen to understand that there is no privacy for individuals who choose the public sector as their way of life. To hope to retain privacy and still be the principal non-elected administrator of a political entity is a reliable indicator of the incompetence of the applicant.

Finally, and of import, is the scope of the law of the land; it applies to selectmen as well as to Presidents: "Congress shall make no law abridging the freedom... of the press." Read: selectmen shall make no rule obstructing the local press.

It is urged also that they stop, and stay stopped, concerning their misplaced courtesy to those who know better. It could be that by and by no one of competence would want them as their boss.

Hit And Ryn Victim

To the Editor of The TOWNSMAN:

On Tuesday, Oct. 20, between 3:15 and 4:30 p.m. my dark blue/wood grain, mid-size station wagon was parked behind the cafeteria of West Elementary School. At 4:30 p.m., I discovered my car had become the victim of a hit-and-run driver. This driver apparently came to the school, parked beside my car to pick up someone, and in backing out, dented the driver's door of my car, cutting through the wood grain vinyl.

There were two Brownie meetings, an art class, and a DCS gym class in the school during this time. If any adult or young person witnessed this accident, I would deeply appreciate any information for my insurance claim.

Hopefully, public knowledge of this incident may prevent someone else from becoming a victim like myself.

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Fanatic Moslem group tied to Sadat murderBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON — Intelligence sources in Washington and Cairo have pinpointed responsibility for the assassination of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat on a fanatic and potent Islamic group known as "Tafir Wa Hijra."

The name translates into "Repentant and Holy Flight." It is an offshoot of the larger, more visible Moslem Brotherhood.

Sadat's successor, Hosni Mubarak, has ordered the arrests of several thousand citizens, including many military officers. But the group — also known as the "Moslem Society" — has roots among a diverse segment of professional and intellectual Egyptians. Many of them are doctors, engineers and high-level civil servants in the Egyptian bureaucracy.

They are united by a passionate belief in the truth of Islamic preachings. They abhor modern ways and will resort to any measures to stop the "westernization" of Egypt — including, obviously, the murder of their nation's leader.

Egyptian intelligence sources believe the group is now committed to a campaign to stir up turmoil and trouble throughout the country.

In the days since Sadat's death, ominous riots and clashes with the police have erupted. Regrettably, we predict that more terrible problems lie in wait for Egypt and the cause of peace in the Middle East.

Meanwhile, the controversy continues to swirl around former President Richard Nixon's participation in the official U.S. delegation to Sadat's funeral and Nixon's subsequent "private" travels to other Arab nations.

There were discussions inside the White House whether to invite Nixon to attend Sadat's funeral. Old Nixon loyalists now in President Reagan's inner circle helped to swing the invitation.

Nixon knew the world would be watching him and former Presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter as they traveled together to Cairo. So Nixon tried to steal the spotlight by continuing his Mideast visit to Saudi Arabia, Jordan, Tunisia and Morocco.

These extended travels were billed as personal visits. Only the expenses of his Secret Service escort and personal aide were paid by the U.S. government. Most of Nixon's bills in the Mideast were covered by the governments he visited.

GOP HIT LIST: The Republicans won control of the United States Senate last year for the first time in a generation, and they kind of like the feeling. Now they're getting ready to increase their hold on the Senate. The election is more than a year away, but the Republican campaign coffers are already bulging.

The first item on the GOP agenda is to find vulnerable incumbents. Then they'll look for Republicans to replace them.

Heading the Republican hit list is Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J. Even before he was convicted in the ABSCAM mess, the Republicans had him targeted. Williams has decided to fight both his conviction and his ouster from the Senate. But even if he pulls off a miracle and holds onto his seat until next year, the Republicans figure he will be easy to beat.

The second name on the GOP list of easy-to-beat senators is a little unusual: It's S.I. Hayakawa of California. He's a Republican, but the party leaders consider him vulnerable — so vulnerable, in fact, it seems that anybody who is anybody in the California Republican Party is running against Hayakawa in the primary.

The third target in the Republicans' 1982 turkey shoot is Sen. Paul Sarbanes, the liberal Democrat from Maryland. He is already the victim of negative television ads by the National Conservative Political Action Committee (NCPAC). And Republican polltakers keep insisting that Sarbanes is eminently beatable.

The Republicans got a mild setback when popular GOP Rep. Marjorie Holt decided not to run against Sarbanes. But they already have another candidate in mind. He is newspaper columnist and television commentator George Will. Will is young and personable, and his conservative credentials are impeccable.

Will admitted to our associate Vicki Warren that he had heard rumblings about a possible candidacy. But he insisted he's a writer and likes his job. Besides, he said, he had a column to get out.

We would hate to accuse a fellow journalist of being coy. But that's the way Will sounded.

WHO'S NEWS: Joseph Sicken, inspector general of the scandal-ridden General Services Administration. He's supposed to investigate waste and wrongdoing inside the agency.

How is he going about the job? Well, a few days ago, he checked into a posh hotel room at the Resorts International Hotel in Atlantic City. He attended a conference organized by the Institute of Internal Auditors. They don't audit the government, by the way; they audit private companies.

So what was the GSA's inspector general doing in a hotel full of auditors in Atlantic City? We found a clue in the brochure telling about the conference he attended: "Come and explore the social amenities that Atlantic City has to offer — including the exciting world of casino gambling."

Poulsen, Moriarty Pace Warriors For Collins' 100th League Win

By Rick Harrison

Senior running back Kevin Poulsen emerged from the shadows to score a pair of touchdowns, while lefty quarterback Brien Moriarty passed for close to 200 yards, lifting the Andover High football team to an impressive 20-6 victory over Billerica in the annual Homecoming Game last Saturday at Lovely Field.

The game was especially noteworthy for several different reasons.

It marked the 100th career victory in the Merrimack Valley Conference for veteran Coach Dick Collins, whose record now reads a flashy 100-34-7 in the MVC and 135-69-12 overall.

The triumph also moved the Golden Warriors back in the thick of the MVC East division title fight. AHS is 4-1-1 overall, tied for second place with Lawrence High and just a half-step behind Methuen.

Methuen, following its 30-8 destruction of Central Catholic last weekend, is now 5-1-0 and alone atop the division heap.

However, that could all change again in 48 hours as Andover hosts Methuen Saturday afternoon (1:30 p.m.) in a crucial showdown for first place in the East.

The victory over Billerica halted a two-game winless streak for the Golden Warriors, and the 20 points were the first scored by Andover in three games.

As much as Poulsen and Moriarty contributed to the win, the entire Andover defense shared top billing with a staunch effort.

The Warriors held Billerica to one first down and 22 yards total offense (all rushing) in the first half, with 15 of those yards and the lone first down coming on a sweep of right end by Mike Marshall late in the second period.

BMHS also managed just nine yards total offense until late in the third quarter, when the Indians finally got untracked and mounted a pair of impressive drives on their last two possessions.

Victorious Warrior Booters Heading For MV And State Tournaments

By She Livermore

Dribbling, kicking, passing and heading the ball with impeccable skill, the Golden Warrior Booters have guaranteed themselves a berth in the State Tournament again this year by dominating all competition. The one serious threat to their domination of the MV League came from Tewksbury at the beginning of the season and in that contest, Andover came away with a 1-1 tie.

Last week Andover posted two more wins and now have a 9-0-1 record, with only one more game to go, against Chelmsford on Wednesday.

Last Wednesday the Booters defeated arch rival Billerica in a scrappy contest, the outcome of which would affect Billerica's chances of competing in the State Tournament, based on their standing in the league. Andover overcame Billerica's rather unorthodox defensive approach and won a stunning 4-0 victory.

On Saturday the Booters travelled to Reading to play a spirited Austin Prep lineup, also concerned about their chances to participate in the State Tournament, and again were victorious with a 4-1 final score.

Andover 4 - Billerica 0

Arch rival Billerica was very anxious to win this contest and in the first half, utilized an extremely unusual formation to shut down Andover's offensive line. Using a one on one defense, Billerica assigned a fullback to each of Andover's four forwards and backed them up with a sweeper who stayed behind the fullbacks and provided additional support.

This unusual formation was very successful in the first ten minutes, as the ball stayed in Andover's end much of the time and goalkeeper Danny Kimball was called upon to prove himself many times.

The tide started to turn about 15 minutes into the half when Andover succeeded in getting the ball into the Billerica end and created many scoring opportunities. Billerica's tight marking made things tough but Andover persisted and finally got on the scoreboard when Greg Batten tallied. Steve Carbone, who received the assist, made a rush for the ball that had been passed forward, reached it just before the Billerica goalkeeper, and pushed it toward the net. Greg, who was going full speed on the right wing, reached the ball just before it went wide and kicked in.

Captain Adam Roberts made it 2-0 following a through pass by Captain Paul Thoday, which Adam kicked with his left foot toward the net. A defender attempted to clear the shot, but did not change its direction sufficiently to prevent the score.

Vikings In First Place

By Dean LoPresti and Jim Wiseman

All Junior Football League teams have one more scheduled game. As it is now, the Vikings are in first place; Dolphins and Colts tied for second; Redskins are last. Should the Dolphins and Colts win their last games, there will be a three-way tie for first place.

Vikings 21 - Redskins 14

The Skins started off in a good manner when, on the third play of the game, David Curtis ran for a 40 yard gain before Steve Redgate caught up and hauled him down. On first and ten on the Vike 10, the Skins Mike Moriarty brought it to the half yard line where Curtis brought it over on the next play for the score. Curtis also scored the point for a 7-0 lead.

On the Vikings first possession of the ball, Steve Redgate ran it 52 yards on a second and six situation for the score. Richard Bourdelais got the extra point.

The Skins again took the ball and hurried down to the Viking 41 where they fumbled it away on a fourth and 12 situation. The quarter ended with the score 7-7.

The Vikes' Bourdelais and Redgate ran the ball to the Skin 20 with some powerful rushing. From there Redgate ran it in to score while Bourdelais handled the extra point. The Skins had the ball on their own 24 and seemed to go nowhere on the ground, so they went to the air and completed a five yard pass on third and seven. The Skins decided to punt it away and the Vikes' Bourdelais downed it at the Skin 47. On a 17 yard gain by Redgate and a 24 yard gain by Bourdelais, the Vikings had it on the Skin six, but a strong Skin defense led by Ray Rourke and Andy Jowett held them there with play left. On the last play of the half, John Perry of the Vikes was caught for a three yard loss by Jowett.

The B teams came in with the Skins kicking off. The Skins recovered a fumbled kickoff return and started at the Viking 40. From there Stefan Kelly, Matthew Dorsey, Edward Sheehan and Richard LaFond brought the ball to the Vike 3 where they were held up for a few plays by the defense led by Peter Radulski and Phillip Romano. Then Matt McKinnon brought it in for the score. Ray Rourke got the extra point.

The Vikings had the ball for the remainder of the quarter and handed it over to the Viking A team at the Skin 29.

During the final quarter of play, the Vikes Redgate ran it in from the 17 for his third and final score of the game. Bourdelais again handled the extra point nicely, making the score Vikings 2, Redskins 14. The Skins took the ball at their own 34 where they moved it only to their 40 due to the strong Viking defense led by Bourdelais and Steve Rikeman. At the Skin 40 the Vikings got the ball when the Skins got nowhere on a fourth and 14 play. It looked like Redgate was off for another long touchdown run but, after gaining 30 yards, he was caught on the 10 by Mike Moynihan. The game ended with the Vikings winning 21-14.

han. The game ended with the Vikings winning 21-14.

Outstanding players for the Vikings were Richard Bourdelais (3 extra points), Steve Redgate (3 touchdowns), Joe Hurlley, Steve Rikeman, Peter Radulski, Peter Lyons and Mike Manning.

For the Skins: David Curtis, Matt McKinnon, Ray Rourke, Stefan Kelly, Mike Moriarty, Andy Peck, Andy Jowett, Matthew Dorsey and Kyle Marcella.

Colts 6 - Dolphins 0

The Central Colts upset the Bancroft Dolphins 6-0 in an intense duel. After struggling early in the season, the Colts are tied for second place with the Dolphins.

Despite dominating most of the first quarter, the Dolphins drive came to an abrupt halt by an outstanding Colt defense led by Mike Hart and Kyle Murphy. Thus the Dolphins were forced to punt deep in their own territory. The Colts took over at their own 30 and proceeded to march up the field. Carpenter hit Scott Degregorio twice for large gains. Matthew McManus then got the ball and brought it to the Dolphin 6, when two plays later Carpenter plowed through the middle of the Dolphin line for a Colt score. The extra point was denied, making the score 6-0 Colts.

Despite a gallant effort by Scott Grant, the struggling Dolphins failed to capitalize on Colt mistakes. They were held outside the 40 and never imposed a scoring threat on the sparkling Colt defense that seemed unbeatable on this brisk autumn day.

Outstanding players for the Dolphins included Scott Grant, Brendan Lynch and Stephen D'Urso.

for the victors, Robby Carpentier, Scott Degregorio, Matthew McManus and David Rourke helped the cause.

The last week of the Andover Junior Football League will have the Vikings against the Dolphins and the Redskins against the Colts.

Game time is 1 p.m. at Phillips Academy J.V. field.

Booters

In the second half with the score 2-0, Billerica changed their formation, realizing their unorthodox approach was not working very well, and put more players up front, but Andover's defense was ready.

Captain Adam Roberts scored his second goal at the beginning of the second half, on an assist by Todd Lockwood, and with a 3-0 lead, Andover began to dominate the play and put the pressure on the Billerica goalkeeper.

With 15 minutes to go in the game, Steve Carbone capped off the scoring by heading in the ball on a long throw-in by Todd Lockwood to the middle of the penalty area.

Goalkeeper Danny Kimball made many excellent saves to preserve his fifth shutout. Andover outshot Billerica 17-8.

Andover 4 - Austin Prep 1

Austin Prep is one of the three teams that has beaten Billerica this year and the Warrior Booters went prepared for some stiff competition. Heavy rain the night before had a great effect on the game as both penalty areas were very wet and the going was rough in front of each goal.

Both goalkeepers played a very important part and Danny Kimball would have recorded his sixth shutout were it not for a penalty shot awarded Austin Prep in the second half. Danny was called upon to make many saves and he rose to the occasion each time. The Austin goalkeeper was also very good, but Andover was able to put four goals behind him.

The first scoring came from Captain Dan Roberts following a shot by Greg Batten on the right wing which hit off the crossbar and landed in front of the goal where it stopped dead in the water. Dan swiftly moved in and put the ball behind the goalkeeper before he could react.

Austin played a very spirited game and the shots on net were fairly even, with 18 for Andover and 13 for Austin. The second half, however, belonged to Steve Carbone who was well set up by his Andover teammates and really made it count on three occasions.

At the beginning of the second half, Dan Boland found Steve alone in front of the Austin net and hit him with a hard pass which Steve controlled with one touch and shot into the back of the net with another for a 2-0 lead.

Within a short period Steve Carbone scored his second goal. Jim Denoncourt passed the ball ahead and Steve raced the keeper, just beating him to it and sent it into the net as the keeper sent Steve sprawling in the mud.

It was following Andover's third tally that Austin collected on its penalty shot for a 3-1 score. Shortly thereafter, Steve capped the scoring for a hat trick, with the lead pass coming from Captain Paul Thoday.

The loss by both Austin Prep and Billerica this week eliminates them from State Tournament competition unless they can win the MV championship title.

Andover has one remaining home game which will be played on Wednesday against Chelmsford and this wraps up regular season play. From this point on, the top six teams will start all over again to determine MV league title. By virtue of its record, Andover will draw a bye this Saturday and next Wednesday will play their first tournament game in Lovely Field against the winner of the game between the fourth and sixth place teams.

On The Soccer Fields

By She Livermore

Andover Soccer's 1981 Fall Program is winding down, with just two games left in the schedule. The Association's Annual Meeting will take place next Monday, at 7:30 p.m. at the Memorial Hall Library; all members are encouraged to attend and participate in the election of new Board Members.

Under 14 Division

Middlesex 1 - Bristol 1

The first half was scoreless in an evenly matched encounter, with the defense on both sides doing a good job. In the third quarter, David Pratt scored for Bristol to give them the lead. In the final quarter, Jeff Poor made an excellent pass to teammate Jeff Penner who headed in the ball for Middlesex, to make it a tie game. BOW: John Pray and Stu Leinson (Middlesex) as well as Jim Tanin, Greg Harris and Mike Hardock (Bristol).

Barnstable 8 - Norfolk 1

Norfolk tallied early in the game when Alan Sillars scored on passes by Vinnie Fichera and Scott Brink. Barnstable quickly tied it up and made things very difficult for the nine Norfolk players who all worked hard but could not overcome the pressure in their penalty area. Barnstable added seven more to win the lopsided victory. Jeff Kuo and Sean Burns both scored hat ricks and Matt Shine and David Cox made it 8-1; Shannon McCabe, David Doyle and Robert Foley assisted on three goals. BOW: Chris O'Neil, Mark Toth, Ray and David Reed (Barnstable) as well as Chris Dorsey and Bill Earnshaw (Norfolk). In a game the day before with Suffolk, Norfolk dominated much of the play but could not score and lost 2-0; Scott Brink, David Dilling and John Morrow were the players of the week.

Hampden 0 - Plymouth 0

Excellent defensive work by both teams denied any successful shots on the nets and the game ended in a hard fought 0-0 tie. Plymouth held the edge much of the time but goalkeeper Kara Wolnik blocked all shots on net. BOW: Lix Cox and Erin Kaufman (Hampden) as well as Katy Dolan, Betsy Murphy, Beth Ann Finnegan and Brenda Damon (Plymouth).

Dukes 2 - Franklin 0

The Dukes tallied in the second and third quarters (Karen Pike on a pass by Kelly Johnson, and Katie Sheehan direct) to take a 2-0 lead. Franklin made some good attempts to deny the shut-out but good defense thwarted all efforts, and the Dukes won a 2-0 victory. BOW: Carla Levi, Ronnie Kovner and Kelly Murphy (Dukes).

Worcester 2 - Berkshire 0

Berkshire played a strong first quarter but could not get the ball into the nets. The third quarter belonged to Worcester as they put pressure on Berkshire's defensive line and succeeded in scoring twice (Jahna Malitsky on a pass by JoAnne Martin and Joanne Martin on a pass by Donna Dubanowitz.) BOW: Merillee Clark and Michelle Poisson (Worcester) as well as Natalie Ongaro, Deanne Gianelly and Christie Mirisola (Berkshire).

Plymouth 1 - Worcester 1

Worcester scored in the first quarter when Joanne Martin made a perfect pass to teammate Jahna Malitsky who swiftly kicked the ball into the nets. In the second quarter, Jill Glaser booted in the ball on a fine pass by Katy Murphy to tie it up for Plymouth. BOW: the entire line-ups of both teams for an excellent effort.

Under 12 Division

Sharks 6 - Falcons 0

The Falcons were forced into a defensive position by an aggressive Shark line-up who pressed their attack mercilessly and booted in a total of six goals, whilst denying the opposition any successful shots on their nets. BOW: Nikki Vadenboncoeur and Bonnie Bilger (Falcons).

Stingray 1 - Barracuda 0

The game was scoreless until the final quarter when Karyn Bates scored on a penalty kick to win the victory for the Stingray. BOW: Lee Anne Batal and Laura Corry (Stingray) as well as Melissa Hurley, Erin Fuller and Shawntel Flaig (Barracuda).

Owls 3 - Hawks 0

The Owls took the lead in the second quarter when Kim Wilkins booted the ball into the nets. In the final

Swimmers Remain Undefeated

There was a good crowd last Thursday at Greater Lawrence Vo-Tech to witness the battle of the two undefeated Northern conference girls' swim teams. Both Andover and Chelmsford came in with identical records of three wins and no losses, but in the end, the Andover strength, depth and spirit overwhelmed

Ellen L. Wilkinson

Captain Of Bates Volleyball

Ellen Leslie Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilkinson, 2 High Plain Road, has been elected captain of the Bates College Women's Varsity Volleyball Team. Ellen, a four-year veteran of the Bobcat team, has played a key role as spiker. The Bobcats are one of the favorite teams to capture the state title this season. Ellen, who has been consistently named to the All Maine All Star Team, is a senior geology major. She graduated from Andover High School in 1978.

Chelmsford. The 99-73 victory for Andover brought their record to 4 and 0.

Laurie Lazzaretti and Amy Brown, sophomore standouts for AHS, led the way with two victories apiece. Lazzaretti won the 50 yard freestyle in 24.85 seconds and the 100 yard freestyle in 55.09 seconds, while Brown won the 200 yard freestyle in 2:15.13 and the 500 yard freestyle in 6:09.

Both Andover relay teams turned in their best times of the season. The medley relay team of Lisa Kleschinsky, Cynthia Surret, Diane Sagaser and Abby Robb finished in 2:05.77, but was touched out by a strong Chelmsford team. The freestyle relay team of Robin Boyle, Amy Brown, Tracy Dowd and Laurie Lazzaretti remained undefeated, finishing in 4:06.81.

Other Andover swimmers placing in their events were: Jennifer Bottomley, second, 200 yard freestyle; Lisa Boudreau, third, 200 yard freestyle; third, 100 yard backstroke; Robin Boyle, second, 100 yard breaststroke; fourth, 100 yard butterfly; Tracy Dowd, first, 100 yard butterfly; second, 200 yard IM; Ann Marie Grogan, fourth, 100 yard breaststroke; Peggy Harrington, fifth, diving; Maegan Hughes, fifth, 100 yard freestyle; Lisa Kleschinsky, second, 100 yard backstroke; third, 200 yard IM; Abby Robb, fourth, 50 yard freestyle; fourth, 100 yard freestyle; Carol Robb,

Andover Victorious

On Oct. 13 the Andover girls soccer team travelled to Burlington.

With three minutes left, defensive star Jenna Powell, with one of her five passes, set up offensive star Kim Hardock in front of the net for the only score giving Andover a 1-0 victory.

Offensive star Mary Oppel had scored previously, but it was called back because of obstruction. defensive standout Mary Wiseman made some key plays in thwarting the opponent's attack. Other contributors included: Karen Hardock, dropping back from her regular position to play well at halfback; Connie Corkery, playing her usual super game in goal; and sweeper Leah Rochwarg, organizing the defense.

Andover lost a heart breaker to Belmont on Friday, Oct. 16. Defensive star goalie Connie Corkery made 25 fantastic saves for the Andover team. The substitutes did a great job, especially offensive star Allison Hill, who was brought up from JV for the game. She made fine passes and showed a lot of hustle.

Warriors

Early Struggle

Both teams struggled in the early going, trading punts on their first two possessions with Mike Canfield of Billerica unloading wind-aided 60 and 43 yard kicks while Tom Wilkins of AHS countered with 40 and 32 yard boots against the wind.

The Golden Warriors wasted a brilliant 43 yard return of the opening kickoff by Russ Lewis, while the Indians had Powell, White and MacDonald in their backfield most of the afternoon.

Following Canfield's 60 yard punt, which produced no return, Andover drove 78 yards in nine plays enroute to its first touchdown.

Fullback Wilkins ripped off a 14-yard run, then bulled for three more yards, and Moriarty zipped a pair of passes over the middle to Poulsen (21 yards) and Sacco (16 yards).

Moriarty gained three yards, Wilkins added a yard to the BMHS 20, and on fourth-and-six Moriarty rambled around left end for a key 17 yard gain to the Indians' three.

Poulsen, who had been used sparingly until this game, then cracked through for the three-yard touchdown run on the opening play of the second period.

Glen Acciard followed Poulsen's first TD of the season with his tenth conversion kick, and the Warriors were ahead to stay at 7-0.

Ball Control

Andover continued to control the play throughout the second quarter, with Billerica unable to cross midfield thanks to the stingy defense led by White, DePiano and Callahan.

Wilkins also kept Billerica at bay with a beautiful 58-yard punt, and midway through the stanza the Golden Warriors ate up over five minutes of clock time on a march from their own 46 to the Billerica 14.

The drive took 14 plays, including an 18-yard pass to Poulsen, a 16-yard toss to Tim Grams, an unusual option pass from Quad-Capt. Carmen Scarpa to quarterback Moriarty, and a 20-yard aerial to Grams who showed excellent concentration by staying with the tipped ball.

Hindering the march were clipping and holding penalties against Andover, however, and once at the Indians' 14 the home team bogged down after a pair of incomplete passes intended for Poulsen and Scarpa.

Acciard came on to attempt a 32-yard fieldgoal with 1:33 left in the half, but the kick sailed wide to the left.

Andover had a mini-threat going in the closing seconds, after Canfield shanked a punt, but the half ended on a 13-yard Moriarty-to-Scarpa pass at the Billerica 35.

Although Andover held wide first-half advantages in first downs (7-1), yards passing (108-0), total yardage (161-22) and scrimmage plays (38-22), it was still anyone's game at 7-0.

Third Period Explosion

Coach Collins' crew broke the game wide open with a pair of third period touchdowns.

Billerica took the second half kickoff and once again couldn't move, as Mark Jennini broke through and sacked Indians' quarterback Paul Callery for a seven-yard loss.

Andover took Canfield's subsequent punt and drove 49 yards in 11 plays for the second touchdown.

Moriarty carried three times for 19 yards, Wilkins hammered the line twice for eight tough yards, and passes were thrown to Mike Lucey (10 yards) and Scarpa (four yards).

The payoff was a six-yard TD run by Poulsen, as he twice bounced off would-be Billerica tacklers and pounded into the endzone standing up.

The attempted conversion pass from Scarpa to John Ingemi fell incomplete, keeping the score 13-0 at 3:55 of the third quarter.

Moments later Billerica attempted a double reverse, but Walt Cataldo funbled the ball and Jennini pounced on it at the Indians' 16.

Moriarty quickly picked up nine yards, Poulsen slammed two yards for the first down, Moriarty added a yard to the four, and Wilkins bulled up the middle for his second touchdown of the season.

Acciard added his 11th successful conversion kick in 12 attempts, boosting the AHS lead to 20-0 at 6:56 of the period.

Indians' Awaken

Billerica finally came alive following Acciard's kickoff, moving from its own 19 yard line to the Andover 45 with the big plays a 16 yard pass from Callery to Kevin Norman and a 10 yard run by Tri-Capt. Steve Murray.

The Indians couldn't stand prosperity, however, as Murray was sacked by Vasiliades and Sacco for a five yard loss, Billerica was hit with a 15-yard personal foul penalty, and Scarpa then intercepted a Callery pass at the BMHS 42 and returned it to the 29.

This Andover threat was quickly laid to rest when Tri-Capt. John silverio broke through and nailed Moriarty for a 14-yard loss.

Wilkins' subsequent punt was downed at the Billerica four yard line by MacDonald, but the Indians proceeded to execute an impressive 96-yard touchdown march that required 10 plays.

Mike Marshall carried twice for 13 yards, Callery added six on a keeper, and the Billerica quarterback fired passes to Norman (seven yards), Cataldo (20 yards) and junior wide receiver Sean Reardon (17 yards).

A triple reverse brought about a scrambling 14 yard pass from Callery to Reardon, placing the ball at the Andover 21, and then Callery hit Cataldo with a 21 yard touchdown strike midway through the final quarter.

Statistics

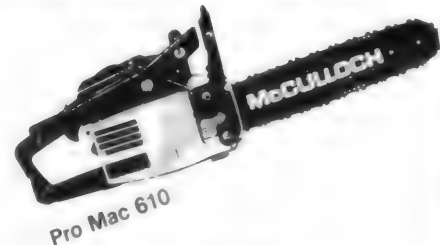

Andover finished the game with statistical edges in first downs (13-10), yards rushing (115-46), yards passing (194-118), total yardage from scrimmage (309-164) and scrimmage plays (67-48).

Moriarty completed 13-of-24 passes and Scarpa was 1-for-1.

Eight different AHS players caught passes, led by Poulsen with four receptions for 57 yards and Grams three for 74 yards.

THE TOWNSMAN, OCTOBER 29, 1981

PeeWee A Wilmington League Nashua 4 - Andover 2

Nashua gave Andover a real contest and both teams played good hockey. First period play proved both teams to be equally matched. Andover went ahead in the second period when Joey Lyons picked up a flipped puck and shot at the goalie. The puck trickled over the goalies' stick and Kyle McCabe knocked it in.

The second tally came when Mark Neaves teamed up with Chris Sapuppo and scored bringing the Andover fans to their feet. But determination by Nashua tied up the game and their open net goal dampened Andover's hope of victory. Nashua went on to win 4 to 2. Goalie Chris Hansberry was unbelievable in net, making 18 saves for his team.

Danvers League Andover 3 - Reading 5

Andover took on Reading's PeeWee A team who are in first place in the Danvers League. Reading monopolized the first half of the game, scoring five times against the local boys. Then Andover got their act together and started a comeback, but time ran out.

Matt Young got the rally going when he scored lightening the Andover fans' spirit. Tom Tormey had taken a hard shot from the point and Chris Sapuppo passed the rebound to Young.

Andover's second score came when Sapuppo took a pass from Dave Riddford and skated into the zone making a play to Jamie O'Brien who lifted the puck over the downed goalie.

Patt Breen, Glenn Allard, Steve Donovan and Tom Tormey superbly controlled the puck though the Reading boys poked and pushed constantly.

Mark Neaves had to leave the game when he got injured during the fast aggressive play.

Pat Breen gave Joey Lyons the puck and he sent a well passed puck across the center. Riddford slammed it in to make the final mark. Peter Trede and Mark Berberian hustled to keep control of the puck.

to put Andover on the scoreboard. Mark Berberian had given him the puck for the assist. Revere was ahead 4-1 when Andover teamwork finally paid off. Defenseman Glenn Allard rushed in on the right side and sent the puck to the center where Kyle McCabe was lucky to tip it in. Now the momentum kept going and accurate passing paid off when Chris Sapuppo set up Dave Riddiford for the score. James Berberian played well in goal, making several good saves.

In the second period coaches Gilmartin, Devereaux and Murnane made some occasional line changes which really helped.

The puck was passed through a pile up in front of the goalie to Kyle McCabe who was able to spark the team with a goal. Third period action again saw the same line combination as Jamie O'Brien took the puck from behind the net and set up Kyle McCabe's third goal of the game for his hat trick.

Now in control, Andover's defensemen Steve Donovan and Pat Breen were able to allow only a few shots on goalie Tim Adams. More excitement was felt when Jamie O'Brien scored from an almost impossible angle.

Even when killing penalties, Andover never relented. Allard overpowered the Revere players and passed to Sapuppo who slammed the puck in for the score. As frosting on the cake, Pat Breen easily moved in on the goalie and lit the light for the eighth goal.

PeeWee B Wilmington League Lowell 1 - Andover 1

Andover played well in this game with both teams being fairly evenly matched. Lowell broke on top early in the first period when they scored on a fluke. Goalie Ian Anderson had made the initial save, but a Lowell winger pushed the puck by him inadvertently as he slid by the net backward. This was the last goal that Lowell was to receive for the rest of the game as the puck seemed to stay at center ice for the majority of the game. Defensively, Brian Costello, Chris McNally, Louie LoPresti and, in particular, John Leng and Hugh Maginnis did a super job in shutting down Lowell's offense. They either single handedly or in combination, broke up numerous attempts by Lowell to score. Andover's offense in the period had some opportunities but Lowell stopped them cold. Peter Donegan, Danny Iandoli and Chris Boyle combined offensively for Andover's best scoring opportunity of the first period.

The second period was much the same as the first. The line of Robert Stoltz, Dan Hegarty and Mike Nelligan did a good job offensively. On a wing change, Jeff Leonard popped the puck into center ice and Robert Stoltz beat the defense cleanly and carried the puck in on the left wing side, crossed the net and fired a strong forehand into the net to tie it up at one all.

The final period was similar. Defense and superb goaltending by Ian Anderson kept the puck out of Andover's net. Offensively, the line of Andy Weiner, Doug Bleszinski and Jeff Leonard had a good scoring bid, but Lowell's goalie was up to the task. The period closed and the game ended in a 1 to 1 tie. Goalie Anderson made eight good saves and played the entire game. In all, the team did one of their better jobs in this season.

Squirt B

The Squirt Bs run of early season bad luck continued over the weekend of Oct. 16-18 when the team lost two games despite playing well both times. The Bs lost to Wilmington 5-3 on Oct. 16 and to Wakefield 5-2 on Oct. 17. The luck changed however, over the weekend of Oct. 24-25 when the Bs beat Triton 10-7 and tied Tewksbury 3-3 in a very exciting game.

Wilmington 5 - Andover 3

With Mike Murnane filling in as goalie and turning in a very solid game, the Bs came close to pulling this one out. Michael DiStefano gave Andover a 1-0 lead on a nice solo goal four minutes into the first period. Good back checking and hard work by defensemen Jimmy Morris and Todd Allard made the lead stand up throughout the period. Wilmington scored twice within 11 seconds in the first minute of the second period to take a 2-1 lead. Midway through the period, Eddie Chaisson tied it up at 2-2 when he finished off a nice play with linemates Derek Camarota and Michael DiStefano, each of whom earned assists. The tie held for the remainder of the period thanks primarily to good work by defensemen Matt Tanner and Timmy Sullivan.

Wilmington scored three times early in the final period to take a commanding 5-2 lead. Wilmington's defense and goalie were tested several times by Randy Moreau, Danny Surdam and John Constantine but held on until DiStefano scored his second and Andover's third goal of the game with just over a minute left. Chaisson earned an assist on the play.

Wakefield 5 - Andover 2

The Saturday game against Wakefield was almost a repeat of the previous night's game. Good goaltending by Michelle DiStefano and good defense led by Todd Allard and Matt Tanner resulted in a 1-1 game after the first 12 minute period. Derek Camorato scored Andover's goal with an assist going to Michael DiStefano. Michael, Derek and Eddie Chaisson combined to give Andover strong offense throughout the game.

Refreshments will be available. For more information call Patricia Mamacos or Patricia Guard.

Wakefield controlled the second period, scoring four times while shutting Andover down. Danny Surdam, Randy Moreau and John Constantine did manage to put some pressure on Wakefield during their shifts, but they had no luck at all. The middle period ended with Wakefield holding a 5-1 lead.

Jimmy Morris and Timmy Sullivan brought Andover's defense back to life in the third period, stopping several Wakefield rushes. It was too late though as Andover could manage only one score, Camarota's second goal of the game, again off a Michael DiStefano pass. The Bs lost 5-2 but were in the game most of the way. Victories will come once the team gets over its tendency to let down for three or four minutes per game.

Andover 10 - Triton 7

The Bs were involved in a shootout on Saturday, Oct. 24, when they took on Triton in a Danvers League game. Everyone on both teams, including defensemen, got caught up in the offensive action, leaving the goalies in a shooting gallery situation. In the end, Andover goalie Michelle DiStefano came up with the key saves late in the game and the team came away with a 10-7 victory.

Timmy Sullivan, who eventually scored a three goal hat trick, led off Andover's scoring parade three minutes into the first period when he banged in the rebound of Derek Camarota's hard shot from the slot. Triton then scored two goals to take a 2-1 lead before Andover scored twice in a 19-second span in the last minute of the period to take a 3-2 lead. The goals came on a pair of excellent rushes by Eddie Chaisson. Eddie scored Andover's second goal on the first rush and set up winger Danny Surdam's first goal of the year and Andover's third of the game on the second rush.

Andover scored three more goals early in the second period to take a 6-2 lead. Timmy Sullivan scored at 10:16, his second of the game and second off a nice setup by Camarota. Fifty seconds later John Constantine scored his second of the season from a tough angle after Jonathan Shine's shot from the right point was blocked toward the corner. Randy Moreau scored Andover's sixth goal just over a minute later when he converted a nice lead pass by Michael DiStefano. After Triton made it 6-3, Michael and Randy reversed roles and Michael scored Andover's seventh goal. Triton scored again and the period ended with Andover on top 7-4.

Three minutes into the final period Camarota scored Andover's eighth goal—to go along with his three assists in the game—off a beautiful setup by Jimmy Morris for an 8-4 lead. The goal came after Todd Allard and Matt Tanner had combined to break up three Triton rushes. Andover fell asleep for a four minute stretch at this point and suddenly it was an 8-7 game. Bryan Smith, Michale DiStefano and Eddie Chaisson then woke the team up with some hard work in the corners with Eddie converting a pass from Michael for his second and Andover's ninth goal of the game. Triton's efforts to get back in the game in the final two minutes were broken up by Jonathan Shine and Jimmy Morris' excellent defensive play. Andover's final score was by Timmy Sullivan, his third of the game, as he again banged in the rebound of a Camarota shot.

Andover 3 - Tewksbury 3

The Bs played one of their best, and perhaps most exciting, game of the season on Sunday, Oct. 25, when they played Tewksbury to a 3-3 standoff. The tie was nearly as good as a victory because Tewksbury had beaten the Bs 8-4 in a scrimmage only five days earlier. The tie was the result of an excellent overall team effort, led by the spirited play of defensemen Matt Tanner, Todd Allard, Jimmy Morris and Jonathan Shine and goalie Michelle DiStefano.

The first period of the game was scoreless as each goalie came up with several very good saves. Andover's most effective line in the period included Danny Surdam, Bryan Smith and Timmy Sullivan, but they could not get the puck by the Tewksbury goalie.

Tewksbury scored twice midway through the second period for a 2-0 lead, but Michael DiStefano got one back when he banged in the rebound of his own shot after an excellent solo rush. Just over a minute later John Constantine scored on a rebound after a scramble in front. Randy Moreau and Michael DiStefano earned assists on the play. Just before the period ended Tewksbury scored on a breakaway to take a 3-2 lead.

Andover stormed the Tewksbury net throughout the third period. Three times Derek Camarota was tripped on near breakaways but Andover could not convert on any of the power plays. With 1:25 left Coach Larry DiStefano pulled his goalie and went with a sixth skater. The four defensemen—Jonathan Shine, Todd Allard, Jimmy Morris and Matt Tanner—alternated and consistently rapped Tewksbury's clearing attempts back in the zone. It paid off when Michael DiStefano rapped in the tying goal with four seconds left after an excellent rush and centering pass by Eddie Chaisson.

Motorists To Get Assist

Harried motorists struggling along North Main Street during the afternoon rush hour now will get a little help from a traffic officer on Thursdays and Fridays — but the relief is only temporary.

A traffic officer will be stationed outside Shawsheen Plaza on North Main Thursday and Friday afternoons, Selectman Jerry Silverman said Monday night, at the expense of plaza owner Gordon Bloom.

Merchants at the plaza requested the officer to ease the inconvenience to customers while construction of a new addition is being completed at the busy shopping center, the selectman said.

The service began last Thursday, when traffic congestion was especially bad at the plaza because one entrance was blocked while sewer lines were being put in.

But acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi pointed out that the traffic assistance is "temporary".

"The lighting there is extremely poor,"

Appraisal Seminar

"The Appraisal of Small Residential Income Properties," a seminar-workshop, will be held Tuesday, Nov. 10, at the Sheraton Rolling Green Inn, Andover.

Richard D. Simmons, chairman of the Education Committee of the Massachusetts Board of Real Estate Appraisers, anticipates the seminar attracting real estate brokers and bankers, as well as appraisers.

Two professional appraisers will discuss the practical aspects relating to the appraisal of two to four unit rental properties and the particular problems of this type of property as they relate to the FNMA form 1025 and the FHLMC form 72. Topics will include neighborhood analysis, site analysis, description of improvements, cost approach, market data approach and income approach.

he explained. "Police will not accept special details to work there, because it is just too dangerous a place for police to work."

Poor lighting is still a problem further up North Main as well, outside Frye Circle, Council on Aging President Thomas Powers told the board.

The selectmen discussed adding a streetlight to the crosswalk at the elderly housing project several weeks ago, after an elderly woman was struck and killed by a car while crossing North Main Street. But the area is still dark, Powers said.

The board Monday night formally voted in favor of installing a floodlight at the Frye Circle crosswalk.

Mailboxes

The first mailboxes were erected in Paris in 1653. However, messengers, fearing for their livelihood, put mice in the boxes to destroy the mail; thus no further attempt to install mailboxes was made in Paris until 1758.

Byrne Wants Parking Bylaws Enforced

Annual town meeting approved a bylaw that prohibits drivers from parking in spaces reserved for the handicapped, but the police are still not ticketing offenders, Selectman Donn Byrne said Monday night.

"There is no excuse for this," Byrne said. "The attorney general has approved that bylaw, and it should have become effective immediately."

Acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi explained that the police department cannot start ticketing under the bylaw until it has run advertisements warning townspeople that the bylaw is about to become effective.

Those ads had not been run as of Monday night, Torrisi said. He pointed out that police have started tagging cars parked in fire lanes — another bylaw passed this year — because those advertisements have already been published.

Byrne called the delay an example of unnecessary "bureaucracy."

He said he was reminded of the bylaw last Saturday, when he saw a car with handicapped plates circle Shawsheen Plaza repeatedly, looking for a parking space close to the stores. Non-handicapped drivers were parked in the spaces reserved for the handicapped.

The car eventually parked in a distant space, and a man using a walker was forced to walk across the lot to reach the stores, the selectman said.

problem, she explained.

Director of Public Health Everett F. Penney, Jr., said the subcommittee is now finishing its report, and will deliver it to the board of health within two weeks. The board will, in turn, make a recommendation to the selectmen, so they will have enough information to take a position on the town meeting article.

Earlier this month, Penney said it could cost as much as $300,000 to spray the entire town with one of three chemical agents the subcommittee is considering.

But state and federal funds may be available to help pay for aerial spraying, he added this week; the town could be reimbursed up to $500 per acre for the cost of spraying.

To get a handle on what to expect from the leaf-eating caterpillars next spring, the state Department of Environmental Management has conducted egg mass counts throughout the state. The Andover count, taken earlier this month, indicates that the town will end up as a "devastated area," Public Works Director Bob McQuade said.

Among the areas likely to be hardest hit are Shawsheen Village, where the town "can expect to lose everything," McQuade said. "It's just unbelievable."

State personnel spent more than two days testing 100 areas throughout town, Tree Warden James Bamford explained Tuesday. In each section, they plotted out an area 66 feet by 66 feet — one-tenth of an acre — and then counted the egg masses in that plot. They multiplied the result by 10 to come up with the egg count per acre in each section they tested.

Counts of 1,000 egg masses and up per acre rated as large infestations, Bamford said — and three-quarters of the town have more than 1,000 egg masses per acre.

Last year's state count showed that some areas of town would be hit harder than others, the tree warden said, but this year's count indicates that miserable property-owners will have plenty of company all over town. "The whole town's in the same boat," Bamford said.

Lower counts were found in some parts of town, he added, like the neighborhoods near Harold Parker state forest. But "the slightest breeze" could blow an egg mass anywhere, he explained, so there is "no guarantee" spring breezes won't spread the infestation to that area as well.

This will be the second year of defoliation for some of Andover's trees, Bamford said, since some were defoliated in 1981; none were defoliated in 1980. "Healthy deciduous trees can take three successive years of defoliation and still come back," he said, so 1982 will not be a crucial year for most trees.

The most vulnerable town trees seem to be the oaks, he said, which are "prone to complete defoliation," while the strongest are the elms, which have suffered little feeding. The maples have not been defoliated either, Bamford said.

"Considerable numbers" of hemlock and spruce trees were killed last year, but those evergreens were on private property — they were not town-owned roadside trees, the tree warden explained. The town's white pines were fed upon, but none died, he said; this year, it's possible that some large pines will die. "We just won't know until it happens."

three remaining candidates had been published — again under court order — the selectmen chose to advertise for more candidates rather than offer the job to their "second choice."

The board chose their current candidates without knowing their names. Resumes were screened and candidates were assigned numbers for the selectmen's reference by consultant Carl VanAsselt of New England Municipal Center, Durham, N.H.

A sixth candidate turned down the offer of an interview when VanAsselt told him his name might be released to the public.

The selectmen have said they consider releasing the names to be an invasion of the candidates' privacy, and one that could hurt the candidates in their current positions.

And, Gammon has said, the threat of having their names made public could discourage some of the most qualified candidates from applying for the slot left vacant by Jared S.A. Clark four months ago.

Tax Bill Mailing Still Uncertain

Hundreds of homeowners have been anxiously watching their mailboxes and calling the assessors' office regularly, but notices of revised property values have yet to be mailed by the PRC Jacobs revaluation firm.

When tax bills will be mailed is, therefore, "a big question mark right now," Assessor William Russell said this week.

Russell emphasized that as of early this week, no notices of revised revaluations had been mailed, because that information is still forthcoming from PRC Jacobs, and still to be certified by the state.

Jacobs' revaluations of Andover residential, commercial and industrial property are now being processed at the company's data processing facilities in MacLean, Va. Project Manager Eugene Tworek explained.

The results of office and field reviews were sent to Virginia after the revaluation firm heard the last of hundreds of appeals of its valuations.

Not all the changes made in Virginia will involve revising property values. This is also the time when spellings, addresses, dates of deeds and similar details will be corrected, Tworek said.

Results of the data processing stage should arrive in Andover "soon", he indicated, but he did not know exactly when.

And until Jacobs' final results arrive, the assessors cannot say when tax bills will be mailed to property owners, Russell added.

Once Jacobs' information is turned in to the assessors, it must be certified by the state Department of Revenue before notices of revisions may be sent to property owners, and tax bills can be prepared.

The state review is usually a one-day process, Russell said, but he does not know how long the town may have to wait before state personnel can schedule a day in Andover.

Cross Street Land May Go To Conservation

Transferring a Cross Street site that has been reserved for a future school to Conservation Commission control apparently sounds like a good idea to the selectmen.

Selectman Donn Byrne Monday night said he would like town counsel's legal opinion on who controls the 94-acre site the town bought about 15 years ago as a possible school site.

If the town controls the land, rather than the school department, Byrne suggested transferring it to the ConComm with minimum fuss, rather than "mess around with it."

Selectmen Edward Harris, Jerry Silverman and Chairman Norma Gammon did not voice any disagreement with Byrne's idea; Susan Poore was not present.

Metrics

There are only seven basic units in the metric system, compared to over 50 units in our current system. It is a decimal system, so the quantities of each unit are powers of ten. Calculations then become a simple process of moving the decimal point to the right or the left. The metric system has no dual-use terms, such as our current use of ounces for both weight and fluid measurement.

Variety

Variety is literally the spice of life in matters of nutrition, and dieters should be wary of special reducing diets that call for the elimination of too many foods for too long. A good, low calorie meal should include a number of different kinds of food—meat, cheese, vegetable and fruit. Accompanied by a cup of hot, soothing tea, which has virtually no calories, this type of meal is nutritious as well.

Project Ahead Of Schedule

The school building project is not only on schedule, but "well ahead of schedule," the project architect told school building and school committee members last Thursday night.

"In my opinion, (the contractors) are well ahead of schedule," architect Herbert Glassman of Perley F. Gilbert Associates told a joint session of the two committees.

Going into specifics, Project Manager William Mansell told the committees that work is "moving along fairly well" at the Doherty school, which general contractor Peabody Construction is converting into a junior-high school to replace East Junior High.

All concrete was in the ground at Doherty, all utilities were in the concrete, the manager said, and the mason was "well along" with the block work.

Demolition of the interior of the building was 85 percent complete, he added, and electricians were working on duct work and conduits, while plumbers were busy cutting in new wiring.

Playing field contractor Meola Construction had started up again on the fields at Doherty, Mansell indicated, and was almost finished grading the parking area. The contractor would start pouring hot top for the parking lot and roads at Doherty this week, he said.

Across town at West Junior High, where a new library will be added and some classrooms will be renovated, concrete was in and ready for the slab on grade, he said. Work at the school should start speeding up soon because Peabody planned to send a superintendent to take charge of the West project this week, Mansell added.

Next door at Andover High, where an auditorium will be built, about half the concrete was in and the site work was about half done as well, the manager said. About 10 to 15 percent of plumbing and electrical work was completed.

Work at AHS should move along faster now that the concrete walls are in, since that work required a lot of preparation time, Mansell added.

Peabody attempted to begin work in the new high school automotive area last week, but failed to notify the principal in advance as specified in the contract. (That area is now used as a student smoking area and for bicycle racks.) Work was stopped last week, but was scheduled to begin again this Monday.
